Khe Sanh Airlift Is Red Shooting Gallery

By ROBERT IBRAHIM

KHE SANH (UPI)—Anyone who believes that "getting there is half the fun" has never made the trip to the Marine combat base at Khe Sanh.

It's a rough ride that culminates in sheer terror.

As the twin-engined C123 lines up in a steady approach to the narrow pockmarked strip of matting that is the only runway, Communist gunners open up from both sides. Despite heavy air strikes, the gunners always seem to be there with 50 caliber machine guns.

They have shot down only one C130 Hercules transport and have not yet managed to bring down a 123, but they score hits frequently. Two air crewmen have been wounded this week and the sound of bullets punching through the metal is a distinctive one.

By the time the plane hits the runway, mortar and artillery shells are already exploding in the ramp area at the far end of the runway—where the plane's cargo and passengers must be dumped and where passengers going out are crouching in rough bunkers.

The turnaround takes less than two minutes. The cargo is lashed to pallets mounted on roller tracks in the aircraft. As the plane slows down, the chains are loosened and the pallets go rolling down the ramp at the back of the plane. They are just one more hazard for the outgoing passengers who have sprinted through the mortar barrage and are struggling to come up the ramp.

Passengers coming into Khe Sanh hit the ramp at a dead run and swing wide around piles of neatly stacked cargo parachutes to head for the just vacated bunkers.

That is where they stay—crouched in a fetal position or lying prone until the plane, its two prop engines and two jet engines at full power, hits the runway on the fly and takes off down wind.

The pilots kicks it into the steepest possible climb to avoid the still waiting gunners, who want a second crack at it.

Then the ground barrage ceases, the incoming passengers light up cigarettes, dust themselves off and head for the main part of the base.

If they survive their tour, they only have to worry about the repeat performance on the way out.

Marin Bus Fleet Must Roll Soon, Officials Contend

Bruce Tells Civic Affairs Group Action On Transit Past Due

Marin Transit District should begin immediately to set up a system of new buses that could begin running by August, Marin County Administrator Alan Bruce declared last night.

Bruce, speaking at the annual membership meeting of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs in the Civic Center, commented that "not much has changed in five years in regard to transit in Marin County, rapid or slow. It is really time that something tangible be shown — I'm tired of waiting," he said.

BACKS JOINT PACT

He seconded a suggestion by another panelist, transit district manager Seymor Kashin, that the Tri-Partite Transportation Committee should work out financing of such a system, and should draft a joint powers agreement for signature by Marin and San Francisco counties and the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to get the system moving.

Bruce estimated that 150 buses would be needed, "prosaic and retarded though they may be."

He suggested that the Tri-Partite Transportation Committee, comprised of officials of Marin, San Francisco and the bridge district, include representatives of the San Francisco Municipal Railway, the state Division of Highways and Sonoma County. The auditor of the bridge district also should be added to the committee, said Bruce, "because he knows where the money is and how much of it."

"As the most directly affected, Kashin ought to be chief of the party," added Bruce.

NO MONEY NEEDED

The committee needs no money to draw up details of a bus system, he said, explaining "it is a question of loaning staff." The committee should be able to present details of a bus system to its three governing bodies within 60 days, he estimated.

Whatever bus system is designed, "it should be limited so that it could be carried out with Marin and bridge funds," Bruce said. "It should not include any application for, expectation of or dependence on federal funds," he emphasized.

"Ferries or any more studies of any kind" also should not come now," said Bruce. "Your elected officers are sick and tired of studies," he said.

DIFFERENTIAL TOLLS

Bruce also suggested "early negotiations" with the Bay Area Rapid Transit District on use of its Richmond station for Marinites commuting to San Francisco, higher bridge tolls for cars carrying only one person, and non-stop passage through toll gates for buses.

Kashin also argued against

Supervisor Asks Basic Tax Freeze

A novel proposal to freeze Marin County's basic tax rate at the present $2.30 per $100 assessed valuation was demanded today by Supervisor Thomas T. Storer of Point Reyes Station.

"On Tuesday, I'm going to ask the board of supervisors to freeze the tax rate at the present level, at least for the 1968-69 fiscal year and for a longer period if the board is willing," declared Storer.

"It is questionable that we will get any tax relief from Sacramento this year," said Storer who has been critical of state and federal spending that keeps raising taxes.

"Marin County ought to lead the way and freeze the tax rate and hold down spending. We should show them we mean business, and we would hope the state and federal governments will take cognizance of our action and follow suit," Storer declared.

"Instead of spending and then tailoring the tax rate to fit the need, we should freeze the tax rate and tailor our spending to fit the pocketbook," he added.

He announced he will present the proposal to the full board on Tuesday with supporting documents to show how the freeze would work.

This is not the first time Storer has asked for reduction or freezing of the tax rate. In connection with the Hall of Justice bond issue in 1965, Storer proposed that the county promise a one-cent to five-cent reduction in the tax rate if the bond issue was passed.

The bond issue did pass, and the tax rate for the 1965-66 fiscal year was $2.185, as compared with the previous year's $2.30.

Smith Bows Out Of Senate Race

LOS ANGELES (AP)—State Finance Director Gordon P. Smith said today he has decided against entering the race for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate.

"In the interest of providing the Republican Party in California with a clear cut choice of candidates, I have decided not to enter the primary," Smith said at a news conference. He leaves his state post Friday.

Entered in the race are the incumbent, Thomas Kuchel, and Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction.

Pentagon Elevator Stalls With Johnson

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson, much to the embarrassment of the U. S. military establishment, was stuck in an elevator for 12 minutes today between floors of the Pentagon building.

Johnson went to the Pentagon with Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara for ceremonies marking the cabinet officer's last full day in office.

They entered elevator No. 13. There were 13 passengers. The elevator, operated by an Army Sergeant, got stuck for about 10 minutes between the second and third floors. The destination was the third floor where McNamara's office is located.

As maintenance men, colonels and Secret Service agents worked frantically to correct the situation. However, the situation was calm inside the elevator.

Harry McPherson, a special counsel to the President, reached up and opened an overhead trap door to provide more air.

With a series of jerks, the elevator began to move, but it shot past the third floor landing and became stuck again between the third and fourth floors, leading McNamara to observe laconically: "This is what's wrong with there being 29 days in February."

Johnson added to the cheery atmosphere in the elevator by saying, "I never knew it took so long to get to the top in the Pentagon."

Maintenance men were able to inch the elevator up to about three feet from the fourth floor landing and waiting White House staff members, Secret Service agents and the sergeant running the elevator helped boost the President up to the floor level. He emerged in the outer office of Townsend Hoopes, undersecretary of the Air Force.

Clint Hill, a Secret Service agent, was with them inside the elevator during the trouble and was able to maintain radio contact with agents on the outside.

Cost Of Living Increases Fourth Consecutive Month

WASHINGTON (UPI) —For the fourth consecutive month, the cost of living rose three-tenths of one per cent in January, the government reported today.

The Labor Department said the index stood at 118.6 in January —3.4 per cent higher than a year ago. Most of the January increase was due to higher costs of food, gasoline, medical care and postage, officials said.

The increase means that it took $11.86 last month to buy the same market basket of goods and services that $10 bought about 10 years ago. The base period used in the index is 1957-59.

The department also reported that the index for wholesale prices increased by four-tenths of one per cent in January to 107.2 of the 1957-59 base period. The January increase was less than 1 per cent above the level of a year ago but preliminary statistics indicate a six-tenths of one per cent increase was in the offing for February.

While living costs were increasing in January, the average weekly pay of factory workers fell by 50 cents.

Labor Department spokesmen said the 50-cent decline was caused by a drop in the average work week.

Heaviest hit was the construction industry which dropped by two hours to less than 35 hours a week in January.

The wage decreases meant a decline in the amount of money which workers had available for spending after taxes.

The increase in food prices, which rose eight-tenths of one per cent at the retail level in January, was due mainly to higher prices for fresh fruits and vegetables. Meat and dairy products also continued to show slight advances.

Eight Lost After Two Ships Collide

SEATTLE (UPI) — Search planes circled above the North Pacific today, seeking a trace of eight crewmen missing from a Liberian tanker which burned from stem to stern after a high seas collision.

The tanker Mandoil II, with a cargo of oil and 41 crew members, was engulfed in flames after it collided with the freighter Suwahara Maru in a dense fog 300 miles off the mouth of the Columbia River.

Thirty-three members of the tanker's crew were picked up, including 27 men in one life boat. They were taken aboard the Kure Maru, a Japanese ship which was enroute to Coos Bay, Ore., today for a rendezvous with a U. S. Coast Guard cutter.

It wasn't know if the eight missing men abandoned ship or were trapped aboard the 24,462-ton Mandoil II.

The Suwahare Maru also burst into flames, but its 37 crewmen stayed aboard and extinguished the fire after five hours yesterday. The 489-foot ship was outbound from Coos Bay to Japan with a load of logs. Some of its crew were later transferred to another ship.

One serious injury was reported. The unidentified master of the Mandoil apparently was burned while fighting the fire. The condition of the others was not known.

Heavy fog hampered rescue operations but planes and ships in the area searched through the night with spotlights for the missing men. Other surface vessels were en route and expected at the scene late today.

The Mandoil was bound from Manila to Tacoma, Wash.

Man's Body Identified; Not Truax

The body of a man found Sunday in San Pablo Bay was identified as that of a missing fisherman, Cecil Burgess of Vallejo. The identification ended speculation it might be Thomas N. Truax, sought for embezzlement of $500,000 from the Association of Bay Area Governments.

Marin County Assistant Coroner Eugene R. Fontaine said Burgess was a government employee working for the Mare Island Naval Shipyards and that his fingerprints, forwarded by the FBI in Washington, matched with prints made off the body.

INDEX FINGER

Fontaine said he was able to get a print of the right index finger from the body. It matched with the right index fingerprint of Burgess in the FBI's file, said Fontaine.

Fontaine, who is a fingerprint expert, said the right index print taken from the body had what is called a "tented arch" pattern. Burgess' right index print in the FBI file is the only one of his fingerprints that has a tented arch pattern.

LAST SEEN FEB. 9

Fontaine said Burgess launched his fishing boat at a Vallejo launching ramp on Feb. 9 and was not seen again.

Truax is of the same general physical build as the body found in the bay. Speculation was aroused that it might be the missing ABAG executive, who vanished on Feb. 8.

New Bugs Delay Moonlet Launch

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Space Agency today postponed from tomorrow until at least Monday the planned launching of its fifth orbiting geophysical observatory to make an extensive study of the sun's influence on Earth.

A spokesman for the agency said problems developed in a fuel gauging system inside the satellite's Atlas-Agena booster rocket and additional time was needed to replace parts and revalidate the system.

Another problem in the same system earlier postponed the shot from today until tomorrow.

The new trouble will force a delay in the launch "at least until Monday and possibly longer," the spokesman said.

Nevada Mountain Rocked By Test

YUCCA FLAT, Nev. (UPI) — A nuclear device was detonated inside a mountain of the Yucca Flat region of the Nevada Test Site today to determine the effects of a nuclear blast in case of attack.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the underground test was of low yield, meaning it had a maximum force of 20,000 ktons of TNT.

No radiation leaked into the atmosphere.

U. S. Jets Hit Major North Plane Bases

Vinh Area Major Target; Thought MIG Nerve Center

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. planes bombed the nerve center of North Vietnam's anti-aircraft defenses in the Hanoi area yesterday and struck heavily in the Vinh area where the Communists were reported building MIG and bomber bases for use against the South. Communist reports said Hanoi was bombed again today.

Heavy ground fighting tapered off but in battles last week 470 American servicemen were killed—second only to the record 543 Americans killed the week before. The Communists lost 5,769 killed and the South Vietnamese and other Allies lost 453 dead.

American losses for the entire war stood at 18,709; Communist losses climbed past the 300,000 mark.

Lifting of monsoon weather in the North permitted major strikes against targets in the Hanoi and Haiphong areas but most of the 70 missions were flown against the Vinh area, 150 miles north of the demilitarized zone where the North Vietnamese were enlarging an airstrip to put Khe Sanh and other southern targets within the range of MIGs and bombers.

U.S. Navy planes using radar hit for the second time the Hanoi radio communications center 10 miles south of Hanoi which controls anti-aircraft defenses.

An Air Force Thunder-chief was shot down by ground fire in the Vinh area, the 802nd U.S. plane reported downed over the North.

Two other U.S. aircraft were shot down yesterday. The Communists shot down a troop-laden Marine CH46 helicopter near Khe Sanh, killing all 19 men aboard. Ground fire destroyed a C130 transport as it was landing at Song Be, near the Cambodian border 65 miles from Saigon, but the crew escaped.

The Soviet Tass News agency which reported strikes against Hanoi today said one American plane was shot down. The report said the planes strafed residential areas of the city

Clerk Strike Hits Markets In The City

San Francisco retail clerks struck two Lucky Stores today, threatening shutdown of 80 supermarkets in that city.

Major food chains said they would lock out 1,600 members of Retail Clerks Union Local 648 because of the strike against Lucky.

The union charged a lockout would be illegal and said it would respond with a demand before the National Labor Relations Board for full wage , plus interest, for locked-out clerks.

Marin stores were operating today, although clerks of Local 1119 in San Rafael have authorized a strike. Contracts in both Marin and San Francisco expired Dec. 31.

David Selvin, spokesman for Bay Area retail clerks, said Marin union members will await results of contract negotiations in San Francisco before serious negotiations begin. Representatives of Local 1119 met Tuesday with negotiators of the Food

Brown May Face Forced Feeding

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Negro militant H. Rap Brown, who has not eaten for eight days, may be force-fed by government doctors if he continues to fast.

Brown, head of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, was transferred from the Port Allen, La., jail to Orleans Parish (county) prison last night after he refused to be examined by a parish physician.

"He wasn't eating so we moved him down there where a U.S. doctor can examine him and see if he needs to be force-fed," said Tom Grace, the U.S. marshal in Baton Rouge.

MAN OF THE HOUR New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and his wife, Happy, leave a National Governors Conference reception in Washington, shortly after Michigan Gov. George Romney announced he was quitting the GOP presidential nominee sweepstakes. The news sparked a push for Rockefeller.
(AP Wirephoto)

With Romney Out, Rockefeller On Spot

WASHINGTON (UPI) —With Michigan Gov. George Romney out of the Republican presidential contest, attention centered today on the intentions of New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Rockefeller, the presidential choice of many moderate and liberal Republicans, reaffirmed he was "not a candidate" yesterday shortly after Romney withdrew from the race.

But he left the door open to persuasion by fellow Republicans attending a national governors conference here, indicating further comment could be expected "after our group meets."

NO FAVORITE

Romney did not indicate in bowing out whom he would support, but he said one of his reasons for quitting was to give Republican governors "the opportunity for meaningful consideration of candidates" and time to act on their conclusions.

Romney added that "time is growing short" in the New Hampshire primary, where former Vice President Richard M. Nixon was left as the lone active Republican candidate. The voting is March 12.

A New Hampshire write-in campaign is being conducted in Rockefeller's behalf, without his authorization.

BALLOT DEADLINE

The first test of Rockefeller's noncandidacy comes late today when the deadline for getting on the Wisconsin primary ballot is reached. Rockefeller earlier petitioned to have his name removed from the ballot, but state officials said it could be put back on if he withdrew today the affadavit he filed disclaiming any intention to run.

Rockefeller acknowledged last weekend that he would accept a draft for the nomination if one arose at the GOP national convention starting Aug. 5 in Miami Beach.

His intimate associates have said that Rockefeller would be a presidential candidate "if the party comes to him"—which he does not expect—but that he would not lift a finger to seek the nomination in view of his failure against Barry M. Goldwater in 1964.

The question was whether and when Rockefeller would make his move to keep Nixon from sewing up the nomination in advance of the convention.

1964 RECALLED

Were he to announce too early, some say, he would draw intense and bitter fire from some of the conservative Goldwater partisans who literally booed Rockefeller off the convention floor at the San Francisco Cow Palace in 1964.

As he bowed out

Reagan Sees No Certain Nixon Victory

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan isn't ready to concede that Richard M. Nixon or anyone else has the Republican presidential nomination wrapped up, despite Gov. George Romney's withdrawal from the race.

"It's either got to be Nixon or a noncandidate," said Reagan. He is a noncandidate who will go to the GOP convention as the favorite son of California's 86-vote delegation, but not as an out-and-out contender for the nomination.

In response to requests from newsmen, Reagan held a 15-minute news conference yesterday after Romney announced he was pulling out of the race.

"It doesn't alter my position one bit," Reagan said of the announcement. "I am not a candidate."

Nixon Eyes Implications Of Switch

MANCHESTER, N.H. (UPI)—Richard M. Nixon huddled with his staff today,trying to determine if his presidential campaign strategy will have to be drastically changed.

While the former vice president was touring five cities yesterday, his chief rival for the GOP nomination, Michigan Gov. George Romney, withdrew from the race.

Today, Nixon planned afternoon stops in Hanover and Lebanon. He planned to fly from Lebanon to New York tonight.

The Romney withdrawal faces Nixon with the prospect of a possible battle against a stronger opponent, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Nixon led Romney in all polls estimating the outcome of New Hampshire's March 12 primary. Nixon declined to be drawn into a debate over "the important issues" with Romney, and toured the campaign trail with the theme that we can't pull out of Vietnam just yet and the country needs "new leadership."

Nixon issued a brief statement after learning of Romney's withdrawal, calling the Michigan governor a good campaigner.

The former vice president concentrated yesterday on President Johnson's foreign policies, in particular Vietnam.

"We can help with arms, we'll help with money, but let's help them fight the war," Nixon said, stressing the word, "them."

Nixon also urged support for Israel.

Pope Continues Reforms In Curia

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI today ordered most high-ranking officials of the Roman Curia to retire at age 74 and lower-ranking officials to step down at 70.

Cardinal prefects heading the sacred congregation of the Curia, the Roman Catholic Church's central administration, were excluded from the new policy.

The retirement ages were instituted in a papal document ordering sweeping reforms in the Curia to give it a younger, more modern outlook and to streamline its operations.

The Pope outlined his reforms last August. Originally they were intended to take effect Jan. 1 but his illness last fall and subsequent prostate operation pushed the deadline to March 1. The reforms take effect Friday.

In August Pope Paul announced a limit of five years on Curia terms of office. Until then, most Curia appointments were for life.

Liberals in the church regarded the Curia as a bulwark of conservatives impeding the church's advance into the modern world. One source of their complaint was that the Curia was dominated by older Italian cardinals entrenched by their lifetime appointments.

Pope Paul has been internationalizing the Curia in recent months by appointing several non-Italian cardinals to top posts in its congregations.

The reforms increase the power of the papal secretary of state, making him a combination premier and foreign minister. Amleto Giovanni Cardinal Cicognani, 84, has held the post for the past six and one-half years. There have been reports he would resign soon.

Denies Politics In Assessment

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Chairman Thomas Neusom of the Los Angeles County Assessment Appeals Board denies that politics prompted the board to raise assessment on Gov. Ronald Reagan's Malibu property.

He demanded yesterday that Phillip E. Watson, county assessor, retract the accusation.

Watson called action by the three-man board "stupid," and said Neusom was a Democrat politically motivated in voting Tuesday to hike the assessment on Reagan's 54 acres from $7,500 to $54,000.

At the same time the board also raised assessment on land the governor sold to Fox Realty Co. from $229,200 to $364,800.

Dumke Calls For Higher Faculty Pay

FULLERTON (AP) — California's state college trustees reviewed Gov. Ronald Reagan's cuts in their 1968-69 budget today after a strong plea from Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke for higher faculty salaries.

Dumke said yesterday that Reagan's proposed 7.5 per cent faculty pay boosts would still permit "erosion in faculty quality" that began 10 years ago.

The trustees originally asked for 16 per cent salary increases.

The trustees also considered cuts in the construction program for the 19-campus system after looking at Reagan's $224.5-million operating budget for the colleges.

The trustees asked for $249 million.

Trustees, meeting as a committee, also approved a resolution yesterday calling for support from Reagan and the legislature to restore $18 million of the budget cut.

That amount was to be used for new programs such as reduction of class size in graduate school.

"In this area we have struck out completely," said trustee Louis H. Heilbron of San Francisco.

The trustees were set to meet later today for their formal board meeting on the Fullerton campus.

The trustees' special committee listened to suggestions yesterday that college enrollment be limited in order to maintain quality with Reagan's budget.

But Dumke said, "I frankly don't think we have a basis for an enrollment cut because of the workload budget. It's possible if we don't get the faculty."

RETIREMENT TODAY

Days Of Flying Jennies Remembered By Foreman

Harry Calkins, reared within the sound of the flying Jennies of World War I fame, will retire today with the roar of jets in his ears.

Calkins, who has been with Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. for slightly more than 44 years, has been plant service foreman in charge of all installation and repair at Hamilton Air Force Base since 1953.

Reared on a ranch near Riverside, Calkins can recall when March Field, an early Army flight training facility, expanded to take in part of his father's ranch at the close of World War I.

"My mother had quite a reputation for home baked pies," he said, "and since we supplied milk to the field, we always had a cool pitcher of milk around the kitchen. The pilots used to taxi their Jennies right up to our front yard, climb down from the open cockpit and have a glass of milk and a piece of pie before taking off once again."

Calkins, then in his early teens, cadged rides with student pilots and developed an interest in military life that led him to enlist.

An uncle discovered him in basic training twice and had him discharged, because he was only 14 at the time.

Calkins joined PT&T in 1924 after two years with Western Electric and was paid $4 a day for a 10-hour day, six days a week in Santa Cruz.

He came to Marin and what was then Hamilton Field in 1936.

There were five permanent buildings at Hamilton Field and all of Marin was still using manual telephone service. During his career, Calkins saw the conversion to dial telephones and the evolution of aircraft at the field from the lumbering B14s, one of this country's early bombers, to the swift F101s.

Calkins and his wife, Bernice, live at 122 Alder Avenue, San Anselmo.

Canadian Leader Survives Crisis

OTTAWA (UPI) — Liberal Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's minority government, rebuffed when it tried to increase income taxes earlier this month, has won a new lease on life in a controversial confidence vote.

The vote in the House of Commons yesterday was 138 to 119.

The Liberals, who hold only 131 seats in the 265-member house, were supported on the crucial vote by one independent and the eight members of the Creditiste Party, a Quebec-based splinter group.

The government was defeated on Feb. 19, 84-82, on a measure which would have imposed a 5 per cent surcharge on personal income taxes to raise $475 million in revenue.

Owner Of Burned Car Appears At Police Station

A search for the owner of a car, which was found burning Tuesday morning in San Rafael, was called off when he later walked into the police station.

Thomas C. Austin, who said he was now living at 28 El Cerrito Avenue, San Anselmo, explained he knew nothing about how his car caught fire at Robert Dollar Scenic Drive at 11:28 p.m. Monday.

He told Richard A. Douglas an inspector, he vaguely recalled being driven by a friend up to the scenic drive to drink two bottles of liquor and being told that a fire had started among wires under the power seat of the car.

Police started a search for Austin after finding what appeared at first to be blood smears on the car's body and an empty car of gasoline near the scene. The "blood" turned out to be a can of red paint which had exploded in the heat.

Controversial Jets To Salute McNamara

WASHINGTON (UPI) — At noon today, weather permitting, three Air Force F111A fighter-bombers roar over the Pentagon in a farewell salute to Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, who is leaving office after seven years.

As a final memento, the overflight has considerable overtones. The swing-wing F111, formerly called the TFX, has been the center of a dispute that has spanned McNamara's entire career at Defense.

The 51-year-old Secretary is leaving without knowing just how the dispute will end. The Air Force version of the plane, whose development he has championed, is expected to be deployed soon in Vietnam. But the Navy version is still deep in controversy.

McNamara was scheduled to receive a 19-gun salute and other military honors in a ceremony in front of the Pentagon's river entrance. His successor, Clark M. Clifford, is to be sworn in at the White House tomorrow.

The usually unflappable McNamara was overcome by emotion yesterday at a White House ceremony when President Johnson presented him with the nation's highest civilian award, the Medal of Freedom, and showered him with praise.

"We are giving the world the best we have to offer," the President said of McNamara, who will become president of the World Bank April 1. The East Room, which was packed with present and former government leaders, burst into applause.

McNamara, who had been standing with his wife and three children, walked to the podium and grasped it with both hands.

"I cannot find the words to express what is in my heart today," he said, his voice breaking, "and I think I had better respond on another occasion." Then he walked quickly away into an adjoining room.

despite heavy antiaircraft fire.

In ground fighting South Vietnamese troops killed 125 Viet Cong in a battle 25 miles south of Saigon and another 20 near the Tan Son Nhut airport outside Saigon. In the central highlands about 19 miles northwest of Dak To, U.S. 4th Infantry united killed 20 more Red troops yesterday, bringing the two day toll to 69 dead against "light" losses.

Reliable U.S. military sources said the possibility of Communist planes bombing in South Vietnam for the first time in support of the expected offensive along the DMZ was a serious cause for concern in Gen. William C. Westmoreland's headquarters.

U.S. troops at the Khe Sanh Marine base 12 miles south of the DMZ have been armed with truck-mounted weapons that can be used against attacking planes.

The spokesman said this was one reason why American bombers are hitting Communist airfields in North Vietnam's southern panhandle.

The strip at Vinh is not considered long enough to accomodate Communist jets but construction to lengthen it began several weeks ago.

It is heavily defended with at least seven anti-aircraft guns and lies within range of one surface-to-air missile site.

Strawberry Burglars Get $9,485 Haul

Daniel V. Talbott of 332 Richardson Drive, Strawberry, complained to sheriff's deputies yesterday that burglars stole $9,485 in furs, jewelry and camera equipment from his home Feb. 19 or 20.

The front door was broken, he said, and the thieves must have entered that way while he was out boating.

The missing items include a $4,000 mink coat, a $1,250 watch and a $1,200 black seal coat, he said.

Other burglaries reported by the sheriff's office today include:

The theft of an 18-foot sailboat and trailer from Luther W. Conover at the Schooner Cove Boat Repair Shop at Marshall The theft occurred sometime between Jan. 1 and Tuesday, said Conover, who lives at 240 Loma Avenue, Tiburon.

The theft of 15 generators, 8 radiators, 6 batteries and 5 tires from Bay Auto Wreckers in Manzanita Tuesday night.

Binoculars, a radio, sleeping bag and camera from the weekend cabin of William H. Frye of San Rosa on Highway 1, south of Nick's Cove. The door to the cabin was forced open, according to deputies.

The theft of $29 from the wallet of Jean W. Tourte of 339 Olema Road, Fairfax, from her car parked near Alpine Dam Saturday. The car's window was pried, deputies said.

Bus Commuters Can Testify At State Hearings

Marin Transit District Manager Seymor Kashin is looking for Marin commuters, who are unhappy with Greyhound Bus service and are willing to testify about their experiences at the state Public Utilities Commission hearings next week in San Francisco.

Greyhound has applied for fare increases that would result in a 50 per cent fare hike for Marin riders. Dates set aside for the public to testify next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"Anyone who might wish to testify should contact my office immediately," said Kashin. His office is on the third floor at Civic Center.

Talk Slated On Handicapped

Three teachers of handicapped children in Marin and two San Francisco State College associate professors of special education will discuss their work at 8 p.m. today in the library of Bahia Vista School in San Rafael.

B52, Eight Crewmen Feared Lost

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—An Air Force B52 aircraft, carrying eight crewmen, was missing and presumed crashed today on a routine flight from Carswell Air Force Base to Matagorda Island, off the Texas coast.

The U.S. Coast Guard, making a search for the missing plane, said the fuel depletion time of the aircraft was 4 a.m. today. The plane had taken off from Carswell at 6:30 p.m. yesterday. A Coast Guard spokesman said after fuel depletion time had elapsed, the plane was presumed crashed.

Seven Navy planes were searching for the B52 and seven more were standing by, all from training squadrons at Corpus Christi Naval Air Station.

No weapons were carried on the aircraft.

The plane was sdue to return today at 3:30 a.m. to Carswell.

Col. Carlton L. Lee, commander of the 7th bomb wing, officially declared the B52 missing at 6:30 a.m. today. Lee said last contact with the aircraft was at 11:12 p.m. yesterday, about eight miles southeast of Matagorda Island.

The aircraft was making routine bomb runs over the island, which is an Air Force bomb scoring range off the Texas coast.

CLERKS

Employers Labor Relations Association, to which major chains belong, but no definite progress was made, Selvin said.

In San Francisco, 300 smaller chains and independent grocers are not involved. They recently signed new contracts. Marin clerks have not yet signed with the smaller stores.

The San Francisco union wants agreements matching those reached with the independents. That includes a 58-cent-an-hour increase over three years from the old $3.435 rate. Major chains, including Safeway, Purity and Mayfair, have offered 40 cents plus 8 cents in the cost of living.

The chains also demand creation of a "courtesy clerk" classification at $1.95 an hour and "a more realistic approach" to the ratio of clerks and apprentices.

Arthur B. Jacobs, executive director of the Food Employers Labor Relations Association said "Northern California is the only place in the United State that doesn't have courtesy clerks." He said the classification would enable chains to put presently unemployable "young people to work before summer."

C. H. Jinkerson, secretary of the Local 648, said the union does not recognize the year-and-a-half old association. He said its negotiations and contracts are with individual chains, although the association is usually also at the bargaining table.

Negotiations ran through last night until 12:30 a.m. No new meeting was scheduled at that time.

Bargaining, with the potential northern San Mateo County.

The union is insisting on cleaning up "left over grievances" before agreeing to new contracts.

Shirley Offers Peace Proposal, Sees No Victory

WOODSIDE (UPI) — Former actress Shirley Temple Black said yesterday it was too late to win the Vietnam War.

"We have lost the chance for any kind of a military victory," Mrs. Black said. She told newsmen it was time "to start to stop" the Asian conflict.

Mrs. Black, who ran unsuccessfully for Congress last fall as a hawkish Republican, outlined a formula to get peace talks underway.

She said a cabinet-level team from the United States should be sent to a neutral country, where it would invite North Vietnam, South Vietnam and the Viet Cong to the conference table.

"If Hanoi shows up, our bombing should immediately cease for all targets in North Vietnam," she said. But if Hanoi and the Viet Cong fail to appear, bombing of the north should be resumed and Haiphong Harbor blockaded.

Nominee Approved

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate today confirmed the nomination of Joseph M. Bowman Jr., as assistant secretary of the Treasury.

further transportation studies. "The information we need already is available, it just needs to be reworked," he said.

But, unlike Bruce, he favored a prompt application for federal funds. Federal officials had "strongly indicated" that Marin could qualify for "important research and development grants," he said.

Such grants then could lead to "a practical demonstration grant and then to capital grants, which would pay 50 to 90 per cent of our total cost."

RAIL TRANSIT

In a brief comment on rail rapid transit, Kashin said, "If Marin County is ever to have a rapid transit system, it must be via the Golden Gate Bridge. Otherwise, it is too expensive and will be at least until the year 2000," he declared.

The third panelist, John H. Jacobs, associate director of the San Francisco Planning and Urban Renewal Association, cautioned that "there is no strong feeling in San Francisco to bend to accommodate Marin commuters."

He also said a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge "is in the foreseable future, though it may be 20 to 40 years."

After the panel discussion, the 50 members present voted unanimously to endorse legislation by Assemblyman John F. Foran, D-San Francisco, which would expand the bridge district's power to all forms of transit, and would add three directors to its 14-member board, two from Marin and one fron San Francisco.

NEW DIRECTORS

Members of the civic affairs council also elected a new slate of directors: Jack Adams, Marett Boissevain and Larry Heon of Novato; Mrs. William C. Anderson and Mrs. Harold Watkin of Kentfield; Mrs. Herbert Appenzeller, Burt Freeman, Charles Hendrickson, Mrs. Robert Mertle, Jack Schoop and Walter Zurcher of San Rafael; Mrs. Margaret Azevedo and George Ellman of Tiburon; Mrs. Fred Cowden of San Anselmo.

Larkspur police said she was driving east. Driver of the second vehicle, Gregory Chandler Greenwood, 19, of 260 Tiburon Street, San Rafael, was headed west, officers said. He was not hurt.

No citations were issued pending further investigation, officers added.

Park-Rec Board Reviews Program

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission last night reviewed last year's programs with an eye on what should be included in the 1969 fiscal budget.

Andrew J. Snyder, parks and recreation director, said no figures were discussed. He plans to present a preliminary budget to the commission March 27.

By-laws for the Senior Citizens Advisory Board, sponsored by Snyder's department, were adopted. The group now will become a club, running recreation programs for the elderly. No new name for the group has been picked.

Church Donates To House Needy

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The Most Rev. Fulton J. Sheen, Roman Catholic bishop of Rochester, has given a church property valued at $680,000 to the federal government on condition that it be used to house the poor.

The church, St. Bridget's, is in a predominately Negro and Puerto Rican section of Rochester, which was struck with racial disturbances last summer.

Bishop Sheen said the diocese was "inspired by the example of Pope Paul who sold his tiara for the poor, St. Lawrence who sold precious vessels for the needy and some bishops of Latin America who gave away property for housing."

Barham Against More Park Site Purchases

Clay Barham, Republican candidate for the state Assembly, last night called for a halt to buying more park land in Marin.

"Why not seek open space park reserves in the more scenic land-locked counties of the state, instead of taking more and more land off the tax rolls here?" he asked a handful of persons who attended a public meeting held by the Barham for Assembly Committee in the Mill Valley School District office.

Barham added that "we have let our most precious resource, our magnificent shoreline refuge, go to waste and ruin. Look at the rat's nest of the houseboat area north of Sausalito, the muddy tidelands and the undeveloped shoreline all the way to Petaluma," he said.

He urged state and private development of the shoreline so it "can be held perpetually for future generations while still paying its own way. Smokeless industries will follow this development," he predicted.

"Why do we stand by and let Emeryville, with their industrial backdrop, take a lead in berth and launch facilities when our scenic hills of Marin offer more?" he asked.

Speaking against the increasing role of the Federal government, Barham said, "Our first line of defense against excessive governments is in Sacramento."

LBJ Asks Anticrime Aid At Governors' Conclave

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Johnson asked the nation's state governors today to enlist in his campaign to get Congress to enact his anticrime, health, welfare and other key domestic programs.

Speaking to 43 governors — both Republicans and Democrats —in the White House movie theater, Johnson stressed the need for greater cooperation between Washington and the statehouses in putting across needed expansion of basic domestic programs.

Some of his proposals face an uphill battle in Congress.

Johnson's speech —a text of which was released by the White House —opened the annual meeting of the National Governors Conference. The governors also were due for briefings at the State Department before going into their own sessions.

Before coming here, the governors, replying to surveys, mentioned crime as their chief concern, and Johnson arranged to have a panel discussion on the subject at the White House after his speech, with Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover on hand.

The more emphatic sections of the President's opening remarks to the governors dealt with "the challenge of lawlessness" in America and the pressing need for a more effective war on crime which he said "cannot and should not be directed from the nation's capital."

Hub Approves Drive-In Sign

Approval of a free-standing sign at the Jack-in-the-Box restaurant on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Arbor Road was given last night by the San Anselmo Design Review Committee.

An application by the Federal Sign and Signal Corp. of Oakland, representing, Tho'tful Stop Corp., for a "flower kiosk" at Red Hill shopping center was not acted upon pending submitting of more details.

The kiosk would be a small separate building to sell flowers.

Rec Budget Requested Of Council

The Corte Madera Parks and Recreation Commission last night agreed to ask the Town Council to budget $4,500 for the 1968-69 summer recreation program, and an additional $5,500 for the remaining portion of that year.

The latter would cover a teenage program, the Saturday athletic program at Neil Cummins School, town park staff supervision on weekends, and $2,000 for the establishment of a youth center at the earliest opportunity.

The commission recommended that such a center be located in the town park storage building, which is town-owned and houses heavy park equipment.

The commission also heard a report from Arthur N. Morrison, director of public works on a proposed five-year park program. It includes relocation of the playground, construction of a parking lot near Pixley Avenue, construction of two picnic areas, automation of the town park irrigation system, wind screens at the tennis courts, irrigation and top-soiling the east area, and rock paths for the new playground and lagoon areas.

Novatans Will Attend Session

Two members of the Novato Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission, and the Novato Parks and Recreation director, will attend the 20th annual California and Pacific Southwest Recreation and Park Conference Saturday through next Wednesday in San Diego.

They are Wilkes Lou Johnson and Dr. John Kassenbrock, commissioners, and director Edward W. Adams.

Conference highlights will be by Gov. Ronald Reagan, Dr. William C. Rust, president of the United States International University, and Dr. S. J. Prezioso, executive vice president of the national association.

Cal-Vet Loans Policy Changes Draw Criticism

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The chairman of the California Veterans Board accused the State Department of Veterans Affairs today of actions that confused and intimidated persons with Cal-Vet home loans.

Chairman George G. Sinopoli said the department had taken a number of actions without board approval.

One was stopping the practice of sending Cal-Vet home loan holders stamped envelopes for sending in their payments each month. This was a recommendation of Gov. Ronald Reagan's businessman's task force, which said it would save $75,000 a year.

Sinopoli also complained about the department's urging that borrowers handle payment of property taxes themselves.

Employee Ward End Protested

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The City Retirement Board has protested angrily following disclosure of a plan for San Francisco General Hospital to abolish its special ward for city employees.

Health Director Ellis Sox said the city workers will be scattered around the hospital with other patients.

Board member Martin Wormuth said the city employees will oppose being mixed with indigent patients at the hospital.

Regional Government Favored, Poll Finds

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — The "top layer" of Bay Area political leadership strongly supports creation of an areawide regional government, a University of California poll has found.

A total of 156 mayors, city councilmen, country supervisors, state legislators and state and federal officials were polled, or about 10 per cent of the region's political leadership, reported Stanley Scott, assistant director of the Institute of Governmental Studies.

Scott said he found "powerful support for a regional planning mechanism with enforcement authority." Only one-quarter of the respondents wanted to limit a regional agency to an advisory role, though nearly half of the supervisors and councilmen wanted this restriction.

Eighty-four per cent agreed that if local government here does not set up a workable regional agency, the state government will.

Mass transportation was tabbed as the top regional problem. Others, in order of importance as the respondents saw them, were Bay conservation and development, garbage disposal, air pollution, airports and water quality control.

Racial conflict and unemployment were seen as the least adaptable of today's major civic problems to a Bay Area regional agency, Scott reported. Police protection was another function that most of the respondents believed should remain under the control of existing county and city government, he said.

Motorcyclists Arraigned In Santa Rosa Murder

The two Santa Rosa motorcyclists accused of the murder of a San Rafael barber and his wife were arraigned in Sonoma County Superior Court yesterday on a further murder charge of killing a 19-year-old Santa Rosa Junior College student in that city.

Johnny Lee Sommerhalder, 24, and Kenneth Allen Preston, 20, were taken from Marin jail to the court in separate cars for the hearing before Judge Joseph P. Murphy Jr.

The arraignment of Sommerhalder was continued until tomorrow and that of Preston until March 13 for appointment of counsel. Both hearings are scheduled for 9 a.m.

The two men have been indicted by the Sonoma County Grand Jury for the murder of Charles Kaufmann, son of a U.S. Agency for International Development official.

Kaufmann and an 18-year-old Santa Rosa girl were parked in a lover's lane area of an exclusive Santa Rosa residential section when the student was pulled from the car and shot to death.

A third suspect in this murder, Jack E. Brockman, 21, of Sebastopol, has already been arraigned and will enter plea on Tuesday at 9 a.m.

Sommerhalder and Preston already stand charged with the slaying of San Rafael barber Curtis O. Ackley and his wife, Shirley, Jan. 13 in their trailer home off Smith Ranch Road in Santa Venetia.

Workshop sessions will be led by Ronald Davis of the Mary E. Silveira School in the Dixie district for the elementary schools; McBeath for High Schools, and Ward Upson, from Santa Rosa Junior College, for Junior college.

The conference is sponsored by the Northwestern California Archaeological Society and the Marin County Social Studies Council.

DOUBLE VISION?

The county is experimenting at the intersection of Wolfe Grade with Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, according to James Robertson, Marin County traffic engineer, to see if the all-capitals or the upper-and-lower case sign is more readable. Hoping for public reaction, the public works department six months ago added the lower sign. Robertson said there have been few calls, and unless the public speaks up, the department will make its own decision.

House Ready To Give LBJ Extension Of Excise Taxes

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The House moved today to give President Johnson a $5.3 billion slice of his tax package by extending excise taxes. But his goal of winning another $12 billion through higher income taxes was still as far away as ever.

Scheduled for approval was a measure to extend until Jan. 1, 1970, the current 10 per cent telephone and 7 per cent automobile excise taxes. These "temporary" taxes would be phased out gradually by Jan 1, 1973, under the bill.

There was nothing planned on the major portion of the President's tax plan, however, the 10 per cent income tax surcharge. And under the ground rules governing debate on the excise tax bill it could not be offered as an amendment.

Unless Congress acts by April 1, the telephone tax drops automatically to 1 per cent and the auto tax to 2 per cent.

Also, the House was set to approve a speedup of corporate tax payments to force more corporations with tax bills under $100,000 to pay their taxes quarterly as larger firms do now.

Unlike the surcharge reaction no major opposition has developed over excise taxes.

No action was considered likely, congressmen said, on the surtax, unless a major stepup in the Vietnam war adds pressure for more money to fight it.

But a Senate test by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., on the surtax is promised. He has said he will offer an amendment to the excise tax proposal, along with a plan to curb federal spending.

On three occasions since Johnson formally sent Congress the surtax plan last August, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, of the House Ways and Means Committee has laid it aside. He said Congress won't pass it unless accompanying taxes is a major administration effort to reduce federal spending.

With no new taxes, the administration faces deficits of $22.8 billion in fiscal 1968, ending June 30, and $21.1 billion in fiscal 1969, starting July 1.

Nuclear Jets Taken Off Global Watches

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has ended its round-the-clock flights of nuclear armed planes in the wake of the diplomatically embarrassing loss of four H-bombs in Greenland last month.

Although Pentagon sources declined to comment on suspension of the 24-hour airborne alert flights by SAC B52s, authoritative sources said outgoing Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara ordered the flights stopped several days after the Jan. 22 crash of one of the planes in Greenland.

The alert force was part of a strategic operations inaugurated in 1961 under President Kennedy. In the event of war, the planes would head for preassigned targets. The development of a widely based missile capability, however, reduced the number of the big bombers kept in the air to only a few.

During secret testimony to Congress last year, McNamara disclosed that the flights had been redesignated as "training" operations.

Since then, the flights have been officially called the "airborne alert indoctrination program."

Defense officials yesterday declined comment on the suspension.

According to industry sources, there are an estimated 8.5 million boats in use in waters of the U.S. More than half are outboard boats.

New Dixie District Drug Policy Reviewed

Dixie School District trustees last night thrashed out a proposed policy to permit school action when pupils are involved with narcotics, marijuana or dangerous drugs off school premises.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis said the district's responsibility is to help the pupil involved and to protect other students.

When a student appears on campus either possessing, selling or under the influence of a drug, he can be suspended, trustees noted.

"The problem is off the gounds," said Trustee Dorothy Brown.

Trustees agreed to a policy whereby a principal, aware of any off campus drug use or possession, would call in the pupil's parents in an effort to correct the behavior.

If the parents didn't agree, then the case would be presented to the superintendent, who could suspend the pupil.

"To help the youngster, you need the parent," said Willis.

Trustees asked Willis to redraft the proposed policy for approval at a later meeting.

The board also received a final report of a Computer Science Instruction project ,conducted in the district under the direction of John S. Starkweather, a board member and associate professor of medical psychology at the University of California Medical Center, San Francisco.

Willis explained that the two-year program was to develop a method through use of computers to assist pupils learn to reason.

The Dixie School District Board Also:

SUMMER SCHOOL — Set the dates for summer school from June 24 to July 26, and approved operation of a demonstration school in cooperation with Sonoma State College at Mary E. Silveira School and setting of classes at other schools as enrollment dictates for kindergarten through third grade pupils.

JOINT PROJECT — Agreed to join San Anselmo School and Kentfield School districts in a proposed project to determine what teaching methods help educationally handicapped pupils learn. The San Anselmo district will seek federal funds fo the project which would be carried out by a team composed of a psychologist, pediatrician, a neurologist, a psychiatrist and a teacher from the Child Center of Kentfield.

UNIFICATION REPRESENTATION — Took no action on a letter from C. James Miller, president of the Drake High School Parent-Teacher Association, urging revision of the law pertaining to the election of members of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization.

ATTENDANCE AREAS — Heard a report from Astt. Supt. Joseph B. Goff on a system locating pupils in various zones for calculating attendance at schools.

Violence Looms In Chinatown, Spokesman Holds

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The city's Chinatown, largest in the Western Hemisphere, is threatened with street violence.

George Woo, spokesman for a group of the community's admittedly delinquent youths, told the Economic Opportunity Council last night, "Unless we get help, and get it now, we are going to take the streets."

"There were near riots during the recent New Year's Chinatown parade," he said.

"The problem is so simple that it's pathetic," he added. "There is not a single Chinatown program to accomodate youth."

Lake Oroville Not Yet Open To Public

SACRAMENTO (AP) — New Lake Oroville, filling behind Oroville dam, is closed to boating, camping and swimming, state officials advised today.

The reasons are dangerous floating debris and the lack of camping facilities around the new lake, the state fish and game and water resources departments said.

President May Take Action To End Copper Halt

WASHINGTON (UPI) —White House moves to end the seven-month-old copper strike were under consideration today as industry sources warned that copper supplies are about to run out.

High-level sources said President Johnson, who met with governors and other lawmakers of strike-involved states yesterday, may take action to settle the strike within a few days.

At the same time, the refrigeration industry telegraphed Johnson that "inventories of copper at the manufacturing level are within days of being depleted." The telegram said the copper strike is causing an "increasingly serious curtailment of essential air conditioning and refrigeration equipment and will contribute to an immediate unemployment problem."

Firemen Rescue Fishermen After Motorboat Capsizes

Two fishermen — pitched into heavy seas in Bolinas Bay yesterday when their outboard motorboat capsized — were rescued uninjured by Bolinas volunteer firemen.

William W. Ellingsen of 20 Sutter Court, Tiburon, and Ben Cardenas of 6 Laurel Avenue, Belvedere, were thrown into the water when their 17-foot boat broached and capsized in heavy seas as it left Bolinas channel.

Bolinas firemen, alerted by a call at 11 a.m. from the county communications center, launched a boat and threw a line to the pair to bring them aboard. The capsized boat was then towed in, righted and bailed out. The boat appeared undamaged except for water damage to the engine and radio equipment.

A Coast Guard helicopter arrived as the boat was being towed in and stood by until the rescue was complete. Fire Chief Jose A. Silva directed the rescue while Assistant Chief Raymond E. Sarraille piloted the rescue boat.

Teen Booked At Juvenile Hall

A 12-year-old Tiburon boy, missing from his home since Feb. 20, was booked at Juvenile Hall yesterday as a runaway and as a burglary suspect.

The youth turned himself in to his parents at 4 p.m. yesterday, according to sheriff's deputies.

Sheriff s Lt. William Johansen said the boy was booked on suspicion of helping to burglarize the Bradford Hovey residence at No. 1 Burrell Court last weekend in which a cigarette lighter, some knives, and undetermined amount of cash, food and an antique pistol were reported taken.

Deputies are looking for two other teen-age suspects they believe were involved.

Bolivia and Paraguay are the only two countries in South America not having an ocean coastline.

TEACHER STRIKE HITS PITTSBURGH

Vandalism Flares At High Schools

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Vandalism flared at several high schools today when one-third of the city's 3,100 public school teachers went on strike to back a demand for a collective bargaining election.

Dr. Sidney P. Marland, superintendent of the city public schools, said the "lawlessness apparently was provoked by the striking teachers." Property damage was reported at nine senior and junior high schools. Four of them—with total enrollments of about 7,500—were closed immediately by the Board of Education, a board spokesman said.

A small fire was set at Schenley High School but was put out quickly.

No injuries were reported.

Curtailment of work duties by other school employees left almost all of the city's 89 grade schools and 23 junior and senior high schools and vocational schools with little heat and little or no hot water and steam service for cafeterias.

The percentage of absenteeism among the 76,000 fulltime pupils and 4,000 parttime pupils in the 112 schools was not known.

The first absenteeism report, from Herron Hill Junior High School, showed 30 per cent of the pupils absent from classes. Normal absenteeism was estimated by school fficials at 10 per cent.

Heat and hot water and steam service was reduced drastically when other union employes of the schools limited their work duties.

The striking teachers, members of Local 400, Pittsburgh Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO (PFT), staged the first teachers' strike in the city's history despite a last-minute plea from Gov. Raymond P. Shafer and a court injunction banning a strike.

Their goal was to force the board of education to hold an election among all teachers for a single collective bargaining agent.

Schools were staffed by teachers belonging to the rival 1,900-member Pittsburgh Teachers Education Association, with the help of substitute teachers and supervisory personnel.

Pay Protests In Oklahoma

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Disputes affecting thousands of public school pupils continued in several areas of the nation today.

In Oklahoma, the state's 27,000 public school teachers today called for a one-day protest walkout next week.

The strike by about one-third of Florida's teachers entered its ninth day amid conflicting reports on whether Gov. Claude Kirk would sign the state's controversial education spending bill.

And while Albuquerque, N.M., teachers voted to return to the classroom today after a week-long walkout, the 1,500-member San Francisco Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, summoned its members to decide whether to strike.

The executive committee of the Oklahoma Education Association, disturbed over the state government's failure to enact an educaticnal program, called for a one-day statewide convention next week.

Gov. Dewey Bartlett, who vetoed a legislative tax increase-teacher pay raise package Tuesday, and legislative leaders will be invited to the teachers meeting.

New Mexico teachers agreed to return after Gov. David Cargo agreed with the New Mexico Education Association to allow an emergency task force to seek solutions to the school system's finance troubles.

The teachers want higher salaries, better facilities and material and fewer pupils. They threatened new action if no solution is reached by April 15.

Schools in the Wellston, Mo., school district, a St. Louis suburb, were to be closed today as the district's 100 teachers met to discuss a financial crisis which threatens their salaries.

And at Matinicus Island, Me., teacher Tagdh Hanna closed his one-room, 13 pupil school, called it a firetrap and said it should be replaced. Authorities hired a new teacher to take his place but Hanna said he has a contract and does not recognize the new hiring.

Chicago School Board Picketed Over Busing

CHICAGO (UPI)—The picketers with their "P.U. on Busing Plans" signs got their way yesterday.

The Chicago Board of Education deadlocked 5-5 on a plan to bus 573 Negro pupils to predominantly white elementary schools. A second plan, to bus 462 students from mostly Negro schools on the South Side to white schools on the far South Side was sidetracked, sent back for further study.

It was the first time the two proposals of School Supt. James Redmond came to a vote, and busing opponents and the relatively few proponents began arriving as early as 6 a.m. for the 1 p.m. meeting in the school board building.

Observers estimated that of the 150 persons in the meeting room, opponents outnumbered proponents 10 to 1. Police said about 200 persons were in the lobby of the building, including several women wearing orange sweat shirts stamped, "Please Veto the Busing Plan."

U.S. Rep. Roman C. Pucinski, D-Ill., a leader among the anti-busing group, was hanged in effigy by some 75 Negro and white advocates of the plans who demonstrated outside the building. Pucinski's district would have received the bused pupils according to the defeated plan.

A dummy, with the name "phewchinski" on it, was set afire and hurled over a bridge railing. Firemen whisked the smoldering ashes into the Chicago River.

Quorum Lack Hits Personnel Session

The Bolinas-Stinson School District Board did not have a quorum for a scheduled closed meeting last night. Members present continued discussion of hiring replacements for teachers leaving the district after this school year, but, lacking a quorum, made no decisions.

No new date was set for the discussion, but the board's next regular meeting will be at 8 p.m. March 12 at Bolinas School.

Threat Of San Francisco Teacher Strike Increases

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The threat of a strike by the city's unionized teachers increased today as union leaders urged Superintendent of Schools Robert Jenkins to meet in around-the-clock sessions to avert a walkout.

However, Jenkins declined to move up a previously scheduled March 6 meeting with union officials although he offered to have his staff meet with unions to draw up an agenda.

Union President James Ballard said next week would be too late and if the union's major demands are not met now, his members "absolutely will vote to strike immediately."

The Teachers Union represents about one-third of the city's 4,000 teachers, and the union claims some 2,000 school employees would honor their picket lines. This could close most junior and senior high schools. City College and some elementary schools.

The threatened strike vote meeting today would be a continuation of a session Jan. 25, at which teachers had been expected to vote for a strike. But the Board of Education passed an emergency resolution directing Jenkins to start "meaningful negotiations."

The renewed dispute today was over whether these negotiations had been meaningful, with the union claiming they had broken down and Jenkins denying it.

Ballard said the union had only three meetings with school officials, and there had been no move to carry out agreements reached prior to Jan. 25 on the union's 90 demands.

Jenkins said he was shocked at the union's strike threat and said 34 agreements had been signed with the union.

Skipper Wins Praise For Keeping 'Cool'

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (UPI)—The Coast Guard said yesterday the skipper of one of its cutters kept his "cool" and didn't create an international incident while watching a Cuban freighter ram a lifeboat carrying three would-be defectors off the Virginia coast.

Capt. Lee F. Young said master chief Paul W. Caviness performed "very well" despite loud criticism, including demands for an investigation and a harsh statement from a Cuban exile group in Miami.

WAS 'COOL'

"He didn't do anything he wasn't supposed to," Young said. "What he did do he did very well. He was cool about it, very cool under the whole situation."

Young, irritated with the criticism, said the critics apparently "don't know" that the Cuban cattle freighter 26th of July ran over a lifeboat with three men well outside the three-mile U. S. territorial limit.

"Well, they know, but they don't take it into consideration," Young conceded.

The three men, who wanted to seek political asylum in the United States, were lowered from the freighter about eight miles off Cape Henry, Va. Their captain claims they were mutineers who had seized control of the ship at gunpoint.

WANTS PROBE

One member of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee called for an all-out investigation, and a Miami Cuban exile group labeled the failure of the cutter to intervene "incredible."

Rep. Paul G. Rogers, D-Fla., likened the incident to the Pueblo crisis.

"As in the case of the Pueblo, there has not been sufficient thought given in advance as to what we should do in incidents such as this," Rogers said. "We ought to know what to do and not be afraid to cause trouble by helping people who were not afraid to stand up for freedom." But Rep. Edward A. Garmartz, D-Md., chairman of the marine and fisheries Committee, said he had asked the Coast Guard for a report, and did not plan to call an investigation.

Tehama Bribe Case Judge Disqualified

I-J Special Report

RED BLUFF — A judge hearing charges that a Greenbrae contractor tried to bribe three Tehama County supervisors was disqualified yesterday because the judge knew of the alleged bribe attempt before the charges were brought.

Plumas County Superior Court Judge Bertram D. Janes also disqualified Superior Court Judge Curtiss E. Wetter because the latter had known the supervisors more than 30 years.

The chairman of the county board of supervisors, Dale Pickell, told Judge Janes he had talked with Judge Witter about the alleged bribe attempt, and that it was Judge Witter who advised him to inform the sheriff's office.

The contractor, David Green, 55, of 70 Corte Dorado, is charged with trying to bribe the supervisors to vote for a vacation housing development. He is free on $15,000 bail.

Judge Janes denied a motion by Green's attorney, William O. Weissich of San Rafael, to halve the bail.

Weissich agreed to have Judge Janes conduct the trial, which is expected to last five days, but said he would seek a change of venue. Judge Janes set a hearing on any motions by Weissich at 10 a.m. on April 5.

PG&E Earns Too Much —Bennett

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The Pacific Gas and Electric Co. is earning too much money, State Public Utilities Commissioner William M. Bennett has charged.

Bennett, a Kentfield resident, said the utility is earning a 6.88 per cent return on its invested capital, while the PUC has ruled it may earn only 6.25 per cent. The difference amounts to $38.7 million a year that should be returned to consumers in the form of rate reductions, Bennett said yesterday in a press conference here.

The commission and its staff have allowed the utility to make the unauthorized profit because commissioners and the civil servants on their staff have not been performing their watchdog function, said Bennett.

Bennett's term on the commission expires Dec. 31, and he is not expected to be re-appointed by Gov. Reagan.

Bennett based his attack on a PUC staff report that implied that the increased cost of borrowing money justified the company's higher earnings.

Printer Is Suspect In Murder Try

LOS ANGELES (AP) — One of the printers idled in the strike against the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner has been booked on suspicion of attempted murder of a nonunion employee at the newspaper.

Edward Vincent Baer of El Monte was released on $6,250 bail yesterday. Baer is a member of the International Typographical Union, which contends its members were locked out of the paper.

Police said John S. Oney, 25, a maintenance machinist, of Bell Gardens, told them he was driving to work Monday night on the Santa Monica Freeway when a shot was fired at him from a passing car. It broke a window.

Also yesterday the Los Angeles County Grand Jury indicted five men on arson and auto theft charges involving the burning of a Herald-Examiner delivery truck Feb. 18.

Indicted were James Woodburn, 26, of Westchester; Harry W. Hamilton, 35, of Gardena; George E. Castellow, 33, of Cypress; Robert Z. Tapie, 20, and Demond R. McGinley, 38, both of Downey.

Local Courses Policy Wins Big In Senate

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Local school boards instead of the state would decide what to include in classroom courses and how long they should be, under legislation which now faces the Assembly after easy Senate passage.

"And if the local people don't know what to do, God help us," declared the complex bill's author, Sen. George Miller Jr.

The 66-page bill passed the Senate 33-1 yesterday after brief debate on the one subject that led to Assembly rejection of virtually the same bill in the final hours of last year's session—physical education classes.

"As I said last year, this bill permits local school boards to tailor their programs to the needs of their kids," said Miller, D-Martinez.

The state at present specifies the content of the courses the schools teach. Miller's bill lets the local officials make the decision, but following broad state guidelines on basic subjects.

"We mandate all these things, but there isn't enough time to do a decent job on any of them," he said. "It's about time to change the curriculum on the local level."

He cited schools with a high proportion of Spanish-speaking children as an example.

The only senator who voted against the measure, Republican Clark Bradley of San Joses, centered his criticism around physical education courses.

"I think the so-called freedom of choice will eventually lead to the situation in which there will be no standards in what is taught in any schools . . . "

Miller countered that statement, adding that "the real guts of this bill has nothing to do with physical education."

At present, the state requires daily physical education classes totaling at least 200 minutes a week.

For physical education — and all the subject areas —the legislation sets forth no specifics. It requires students in first through sixth grades to study English, mathematics, social science, science, fine arts, physical education and health.

For seventh through 12th graders, the first six courses — plus applied arts, foreign language and driver education — must be offered, but the state doesn't require students to take them. The state, however, does outline general graduation requirements.

UNRUH WORD HINGES ON $2 MILLION

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh of Inglewood says he'll announce next week whether or not he will seek the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Seante.

Unruh told a news conference yesterday he is finding it difficult to raise the $2 million that would be needed to finance a Senate campaign.

So far, the Democrats have no strong candidate for the Senate, Unruh said.

Sunny Hills Report Two Runaway Girls

Two runaway girls from Sunny Hills Orphanage, 910 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, were reported today by San Anselmo police.

Offivers said Rosanne Ash, 17, wearing white jeans and a blue jacket, and Sandy Contaxis, 16, wearing a yellow mini dress, have been missing since 5 p.m. yesterday.

Antiwar Democrats Offer McCarthy For June Primary

SACRAMENTO (AP) —Antiwar Democrats formally offered Minnesota Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy today as an alternative to President Johnson in California's June primary, and forecast a good chance of upsetting Johnson.

A list of 172 persons was filed with the secretary of state yesterday to appear on the June 4 ballot as the McCarthy delegation to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in August.

Members ranged from congressmen to actor Robert Vaughn and two Nobel Prize recipients.

The party loyalist delegation, pledged to Johnson and headed by Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch, has not yet been announced.

Gerald N. Hill, president of the volunteer California Democratic Council and cochairman of the McCarthy campaign here, said in a news release:

"With this type of grassroots-based coalition we can develop a campaign which is almost assured of winning the California presidential campaign on June 4."

Hill said McCarthy, who also is entered in the May 28 Oregon primary, will campaign about a third of that month in California and will appear here three or four times between now and May.

McCarthy's main appeal is to Democrats who seek an end to the Vietnam conflict through a halt in bombing of North Vietnam and early peace negotiations.

But to get the CDC behind him, he also has agreed to support stronger efforts in bettering the lot of Negro slum residents, the second half of the "Peace and Equality" tag hung on his slate.

Because of a shortage of water, parents in Melbourne, Australia, have been urged to conserve water by bathing two children in the same water.

U.S. Tightens Label Rule On Deadly Drug

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Commissioner James L. Goddard today announced further Food and Drug Administration (FDA) restrictions on Chloromycetin, an antibiotic which, if misused, can cause one of the most painful deaths known to medicine.

Dr. Goddard disclosed the new crackdown on the Parke, Davis Co. drug in testimony prepared for the Senate Small Business Monopoly Subcommittee. Chairman Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., has been investigating misuse of the drug already limited to a few serious diseases such as typhoid fever.

DOCTORS UNHEEDING

Despite current FDA restrictions, Goddard admitted that label warnings to doctors have failed to curb abuse of Chloromycetin. Witnesses have told the subcommittee that most of the $70 million worth sold each year was used for colds, acne, and other minor ailments for which —by FDA regulation —it should not be used.

Chloromycetin has been reported to cause aplastic anemia, a disease that destroys the body's ability to produce blood.

According to Goddard, the Chloromycetin label will be revised to include leukemia as another possible side effect. A new label will also contain even more restrictive usages.

DEATHS CITED

Three California witnesses, two of them doctors, told the subcommittee yesterday how their children died from blood disorders after getting Chloromycetin for minor ailments.

In stark terms, they told how tissue began to die when the body failed to produce new blood; their children became covered with bleeding ulcers and eventually developed gangrene over large portions of their bodies.

"I know of no more torturous death, especially in children," said Dr. Franklin Farman of Lakewood (Los Angeles County). His 5-year-old daughter died from the disease.

Heart Ethics Conference Scheduled

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—physicians at the annual meeting of the American College of Cardiology have decided to hold a national conference in March to discuss the moral and ethical questions raised about human heart transplants. While this was going on yesterday, two heart transplant pioneers—Dr. Christiaan N. Barnard of South Africa and Dr. Norman E. Shumway of Stanford University —met briefly in an operating room at Stanford Medical Center. They worked together as researchers at the University of Minnesota several years ago.

NO GUIDELINES

Dr. William Likoff of Philadelphia, president of the American College of Cardiology, said the organization would host a "two or three day" conference in Bethesda, Md., probably starting March 23.

He hoped the 50 to 75 representatives attending the conference could set guidelines which could be considered as the proper ethic for organ transplants, particularly those involving the heart. "Heart transplants have burst on the world so suddenly that there are no guidelines," said Likoff.

One of the main problems that will try to be resolved at the Bethesda conference, said Likoff, would be "what is death?"

OTHER ISSUES

"We must still learn that secure point at which you know that human life can no longer be sustained," he said.

Other questions to be considered at the conference would include: How properly to involve the donor, if that can be done? How properly to involve the donor's family, how to involve the patient?

'Flower Child' Not New To Hawaiian

By MOLLY MARIN

Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Davies of Squaw Peak, Indian Valley Ranch in Novato, returned home Saturday from a stay on the island of Hawaii. They flew to Hilo and stayed at Mauna Kea and the new Kona Hilton Hotel. Elizabeth Banning Davies said it struck her on this trip to the islands that "flower children" have been there for years—even the cowboys wear orchids on their hats.

The Davies plan to build a vacation house on the Kona coast where they own property. She had only praise for the beautiful country there which she said resembled the hills of Novato with the exception that one can see the ocean.

EVERYONE HOPES that when their wedding day comes all will go smoothly, but for John Kent and Gigi Grove things were not so destined. After the 400 guests were seated at St. Anselm's Church and the mother of the bride was escorted to her place, all waited for the bridegroom and priest to appear. Nervousness set in, and finally an altar boy sped up the steps to tell the bride that monsignor said he could not marry the couple—they did not have the marriage license.

A frantic hunt through car, clothes and everywhere began. The couple had had the license at the rehearsal dinner the night before — it must have been left among the napkins at the restaurant and swept away in the clearing up.

Gigi had the license receipt in her scrapbook at the couple's new apartment in San Francisco. So Gigi's brother, Brian, drove in to the city while monsignor explained the delay to the guests. The license receipt would help, but he said the license must be signed to make it legal.

So the hundreds of guests filed out of the church and wandered through San Anselmo and Ross for two hours. When Brian returned all settled back in the pews and the nuptial vows were exchanged. But Gigi and John had to go back the Monday afterward with a duplicate license to be signed to legally satisfy the state.

There was no honeymoon, and beside, as an Air Force lieutenant, the bridegroom had been called to be on the alert for possible duty . . .

SAILING ABOARD the Lurline for its Aloha Mexico cruise for 11 days will be Mr. and Mrs. Ronald McLennan of San Rafael. They will depart Monday for Mazatlan, Puerto Vallerta and Acapulco, from Los Angeles.

MRS. RAYMOND FREDRICK was honored Tuesday when Mrs. Cyrille Raymond, Mrs. Raymond Kelley and Mrs. Robert Evans, all of Novato, held a coffee. Mrs. Fredrick and her husband Major Fredrick will be leaving on March 20 for Turkey where Major Fredrick will have a two-year tour of duty.

Young Navajos Travel Many Hours To School

By VIVIAN BROWN

NEW YORK (AP) — Student Navajos may have been hardest hit of all Indians when a big blizzard swept their reservation this winter: They couldn't go to school.

The majority of Indian youth will undergo every hardship to attend public schools where their contact with non-Indians and another world brings promises, hopes, dreams.

But for most young Indians, though their lot has improved slightly, such dreams are short-lived. Full-time employment on reservations is non-existent. Part-time employment is available to few. Life expectancy is in the middle-forties.

Yet, they will travel long distances to public schools — 50 or more miles to a bus that will perhaps take them another 20 miles, points out Mary Lou Ewing, assistant director of the American Indian Program of Save the Children Foundation.

"I've seen Hopi Indians climb into cars at six in the morning to be driven 80 miles to school, the beginning of what must be a 12-hour school day," she explains.

THEY CAN ATTEND boarding school or bordertown dormitories where public schools are located at government expense. Both arrangements have drawbacks, and they undergo great difficulties to commute to public schools.

Young Indians trying to make their school house have been found frozen.

For 10 years, about twice a month, Mrs. Ewing has been leaving family and piano students in Albuquerque to visit Indian reservations scattered over New Mexico, Arizona, South Carolina, Oklahoma in the interest of administering sponsorship of about 5,000 Indian youngsters with its self-help projects and awarding scholarships to outstanding teen-agers. She first introduced the child-family-community sponsorship with the Hopis for whom she has a special fondness.

"YOUNG INDIANS going off to boarding school are likely to have their entire wardrobes on their backs," she says.

She was on the Navajo reservation when the blizzard hit. She saw livestock, their livelihood, made immobile by snow to their heads. Even in the best of circumstances, the average family income is only $750. So, she hurried to Albuquerque to help speed the shipment of 5,000 tons of clothing from their warehouse in Knoxville. The public has been responding with funds for Navajo relief to The Save the Children Federation offices in Norwalk, Conn.

Nowadays, young Indians emulate non-Indians in dress, and the breakdown in traditional clothes — most prefer levis, shorts, shoes — appalls their elders. Some still wear traditional ankle-length skirts and moccasins and all study ceremonial dances, but one hears rock and roll and other modern music now on the reservations.

THE FEDERATION programs teach young girls homemaking arts — cooking, sewing, upholstering.

Young boys learn shop work, plumbing and can install bathroom facilities when the U.S. Health Dept. makes them available. Self-help scholarship aid from the SCF requires that funds be earned for school needs. Recipients pay off this debt by working in medical clinics, tribal libraries, or by sewing layettes, building remadas (shelters) or renovating houses for elderly people.

The Trouble With Volunteers

First of two articles on the trials and opportunities of the volunteer in Marin.

By BARBARA HOSMER

"I don't know why I bother to go and spend hours waiting and just doing silly little 'nothing' jobs, after I've had to hire a baby sitter and all" . . .

"Nobody even notices that I'm there half the time, and everybody is too busy to bother to tell me anything. . . ."

The plantive wails of the volunteer are more and more common now that women have been able to make the time and effort to do volunteer work on a wide variety of fronts.

All too often they feel that they are not getting the satisfaction they sought when they volunteered themselves in behalf of cause or community.

AND THE PEOPLE who direct the agencies and organizations to which these women come seeking some meaning or "fulfillment" outside their homes privately share the disillusion.

Their complaints run along these general lines:

"They don't want to do routine jobs."

"There isn't enough time for anybody to train them."

"The dynamic ones want to take over and reorganize the whole thing."

"They are do-gooders who don't want to take off their gloves and dirty their hands at anything."

"You can't depend on them—just when you need them they're off on a trip or are needed at home." . . .

"Volunteers bounce from agency to agency just to try them out." . . .

"Often an organization supposedly seeking a volunteer project is given an idea and really doesn't want to do anything but carry on a social hour. It takes on a project to save "community face" and ends up doing nothing." . . .

ALTHOUGH SMILES and kudos may flow from the speakers' table at the annual meeting, all too often such cumpliments serve as a veneer to cover the real dissatisfactions of the volunteer members and directors among themselves and with each other.

Seeing both sides of the problem daily, Marion Kelley, director of the Volunteer Bureau of Marin, sheds some light on what's happening with volunteer work in Marin.

"Volunteering has been changing in recent years. People are getting choosier about what they want to do. In some places volunteer directors complain that women bounce from one group to another 'shopping' for a place they like."

Actually, she said, this kind of volunteer could be used for spot jobs, spending a few hours here and there when needed. This gives the volunteer variety and those who can do telephoning and typing or filing perform a valuable service. Many such skilled persons are available through the volunteer bureau to be sent to agencies as they are needed for short term jobs.

Then they are no longer the "job shoppers" who float continually and accomplish nothing.

Every volunteer should examine his motive first, Mrs. Kelley says.

"ONE OF the biggests problems is that the volunteer is not always aware of why he is volunteering.

"If a volunteer has the dynamic motive to get into a school and work it over to change it, he can be extremely dangerous," she remarked. "But these are the types with the most energy. The question is how do you channel it into a positive direction?"

AND VOLUNTEERS themselves often remark that sometimes leaders with definite ideas come on mighty strong and scare off a lot of people who might otherwise work with them. Yet, they agree, such leader types are needed to accomplish things that would cause a weaker person to drop away early in the game.

Again as to motive, Mrs. Kelley says that while times and attitudes are changing, there is still the old cliche in people's minds, "If you do volunteer work it has to do somebody good who is poor or helpless."

"The people who are tied up with this Lady Bountiful attitude are cutting themselves off from a lot of experiences in self-fulfillment just when there is increasing leisure time and a need for enriched lives," she remarked.

Cultural and school volunteers, for instance, find the interest they seek outside their families without the do-gooder feeling that might have been needed in their mothers' time, she pointed out.

Thus the satisfied volunteer knows her motive, what she hopes to gain through her service, and finds the place that can provide it.

BUT ALL TOO often the story is different. The volunteer feels rebuffed or useless.

"The serious problem arising is that we chew volunteeers up, wear them out and use them up," Marion Kelley says. Often an agency or organization doesn't think through what it needs them for. It may put out a call for 35 volunteers and actually need two. Then it doesn't know what to do with them, and the volunteers who have paid a sitter and interrupted busy schedules to go to work find nothing to do, she says.

"This situation shows the low regard the professional may have for the volunteer, and the volunteer caught in it refuses to accept any responsibility which underlines the agency's low regard for her," she says.

"Agencies are simply not using volunteers creatively. Sometimes you get professionals who feel threatened by volunteers and simply will not let go." In this situation they don't allow the volunteer to take on any of the real work that she could do.

Anti-volunteer attitudes show also when an agency belittles "the suburban ladies who come and never seem to get their hands dirty" — perhaps from fear of those they sense are hostile?

In cases like this the staff does not make itself available to talk with the volunteers and give them the help they need, Mrs. Kelley stated.

"PROFESSIONALS WHO put down the volunteer effort are a real problem . . . although sometimes it's justified."

The limitations of the volunteer must also be realized, she points out.

"What you expect of a volunteer is terribly important. You can't expect consistency and continuity. You have to devise jobs that allow the summer off, for instance. When you get the other kind of round-the-clock volunteer it's a dividend. And of course there are many areas where volunteers could never be used."

If an organization misuses the volunteer it may be the volunteer's fault, she said.

And another Marinite who has worked as a volunteer for some 40 years comments that the average volunteer is only good for about three years and that figure averages in the long-timers who may have devoted 10 or 20 years.

THIS "HERE TODAY, gone tomorrow" problem has its reasons.

On of the things volunteers complain most about is lack of real recognition for the job they are doing. They volunteer their services because they need to belong, they are looking for a "place," and the everyday recognition of being a part of something, Mrs. Kelley states.

"Volunteers complain most about this impersonalness they feel. They go time and again and 'nobody talked to me' they say," she explained. Or they go and 'have to sit around for an hour before they find work for me' they complain."

THEIR OTHER main complaints:

"They don't keep me busy enough" and "I don't get any instruction."

The problem of training volunteers is vital. The volunteer wonders where the limits are to what she should do. "I don't want to step on anybody's toes, how much initiative can I take?" she wonders.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Get Ready, Get Set To Leap, For Today Happens To Be February 29

DEAR READERS:

Happy Leap Day! Or does anyone remember that today happens only once every four years?

You know, this is my third Leap Year as a columnist, and the first when not one single correspondent has mentioned it. I even forgot Feb. 29 myself until I wrote the date on my copy.

Sad. What with wars, riots, bombs, disasters, pleasant little games like Leap Year Tag have somehow lost their zing. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I've been going with this boy for two years. Last month we went to a party and there was booze. It got pretty wild. Now I think I'm pregnant.

Two weeks afterwards this boy and I broke up because we both felt so guilty and ashamed that we couldn't face each other.

I never thought this could happen. We both had discussed sex and both agreed that it should wait till after marriage.

I wish I was able to talk to him, as I still love him. But every time we see each other at school, we just stutter a "hello" and walk away.

My parents don't know. I can't tell them. There's no one to talk with. I've ruined everything just because I thought it was big to be with the drinking crowd.

— SO ASHAMED

DEAR ASHAMED:

And the drinking crowd, when they hear, will probably make jokes about the dumb kid who got caught. It's a high price to pay for a little booze.

Your parents will see you through. The boy's folks may even help with the bills. But you'll never go back to how it was before. You'll never quite erase the misery caused from this one mistake, even though, hopefully, you aren't pregnant.

I wish I could ship you a big, gift-wrapped package of comfort and sympathy. But I keep remembering: no one forced you into that wild party, and no one poured drinks down your throat.

Only you are responsible for your actions. I'm sorry you had to learn this the hard way. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Somebody once suggested in your column that they divide schools so that each has four grades: lower elementary, higher elementary and high school. Our town did that, and it's miserable!

We are eighth graders in higher elementary, which includes fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades. It seems like we're all treated like fifth graders. We aren't allowed to have dances, cheer leaders, Girls Athletic Association, or even graduation exercises. They show us movies like "Snow White." Their idea of a party is a valentine exchange or prizes for the best Halloween costume!

I'm all for junior high schools, as they get you ready for senior high. How can we older kids show the principal we're

— NEARLY 14, NOT 10

DEAR 14:

Unless the P-TA sees your point, I'm afraid you'll have to wait for high school. So let the P-TA know, via your mothers, how you feel. Good luck!—H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Indepe Independent-Journal.

VOLUNTEER

Also, sometimes the professional directing the volunteer feels he will be asking too much — thinking "this is a lady here out of good will and shouldn't be asked to do too much," says Mrs. Kelley.

A RATHER tolerant view is taken by the professional director of a longtime Marin agency. She believes that volunteers generally are doing the best they can, and you shouldn't expect too much . . . never more than they can realistically deliver.

"But the more you ask of a volunteer the better," Mrs. Kelley has found. "But first you must know what each volunteer is able to do. The program planning type can't do clerical work, just as in the business world.

"Generally a volunteer needs to feel that her horizons can be expanded and that she can contribute in an innovative way."

Cleaning Silks

When silks become so heavily soiled that strenuous cleaning measures must be employed, there are risks of chafing of destruction of surface fiber, bleeding of dye, loss of body, and yarn slippage or weave distortion.

USDA SAYS—

Broiler-Fryer Chickens In Abundant Supply This Week

WASHINGTON (UPI) — USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that abundant supplies of meat and poultry and good supplies of some fresh fruits and vegetables will be available to weekend shoppers in food stores and supermarkets.

BROILER-FRYER chickens and turkeys continue to be the most abundantly available meats. Pork cuts are again on the abundant lists and these include bacon, chops, roasts and hams. Beef cuts should be readily available in some areas. Fish fillets and steaks, fish sticks and portions, and canned tuna are fish buys to watch for, according to the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Cabbage, lettuce, and potatoes are again the most abundant vegetables. Grapefruit and oranges are the fruits in the most-abundant category with apples joining them in some areas.

IN THE WEST:

Butter is down in the Seattle area this week, and eggs, especially large and medium sizes, are again showing significant decreases in all West Coast markets.

Ready-to-cook chickens are generally slightly higher in Southern California, and fresh fryers have advanced in all markets, especially in Portland.

Wholesale beef has moved up somewhat in California, with price trends steady to mixed in the Northwest. Loins are higher in Portland. Most major fresh pork cuts are averaging a slight increase in Portland and Los Angeles.

Fruits and vegetables in best supply include apples, bananas, grapefruit, oranges, cabbage, lettuce and potatoes.

Best fish buys for the West are: Dungeness crabs, cod fillets, rock fish fillets, sole fillets, halibut steaks, oysters, rainbow trout, and canned tuna.

OOOH-LA-LA — The arrival of several French sailors from the Jeanne D'Arc, the French aircraft carrier which visited the Bay Area, at the Sadie Hawkins dance added a special note for those crippled teenagers attending the Easter Seal Society sponsored event Saturday. The visit of the sailors to their first typical American teen-age dance, with rock band and light show was arranged by Marin Easter Seal Society director Peggy Russo, who contacted the French Consul General, Claude Batault, in San Francisco. HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Get Ready, Get Set To Leap, For Today Happens To Be February 29

DEAR READERS:

Happy Leap Day! Or does anyone remember that today happens only once every four years?

You know, this is my third Leap Year as a columnist, and the first when not one single correspondent has mentioned it. I even forgot Feb. 29 myself until I wrote the date on my copy.

Sad. What with wars, riots, bombs, disasters, pleasant little games like Leap Year Tag have somehow lost their zing. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I've been going with this boy for two years. Last month we went to a party and there was booze. It got pretty wild. Now I think I'm pregnant.

Two weeks afterwards this boy and I broke up because we both felt so guilty and ashamed that we couldn't face each other.

I never thought this could happen. We both had discussed sex and both agreed that it should wait till after marriage.

I wish I was able to talk to him, as I still love him. But every time we see each other at school, we just stutter a "hello" and walk away.

My parents don't know. I can't tell them. There's no one to talk with. I've ruined everything just because I thought it was big to be with the drinking crowd.

— SO ASHAMED

DEAR ASHAMED:

And the drinking crowd, when they hear, will probably make jokes about the dumb kid who got caught. It's a high price to pay for a little booze.

Your parents will see you through. The boy's folks may even help with the bills. But you'll never go back to how it was before. You'll never quite erase the misery caused from this one mistake, even though, hopefully, you aren't pregnant.

I wish I could ship you a big, gift-wrapped package of comfort and sympathy. But I keep remembering: no one forced you into that wild party, and no one poured drinks down your throat.

Only you are responsible for your actions. I'm sorry you had to learn this the hard way. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Somebody once suggested in your column that they divide schools so that each has four grades: lower elementary, higher elementary and high school. Our town did that, and it's miserable!

We are eighth graders in higher elementary, which includes fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades. It seems like we're all treated like fifth graders. We aren't allowed to have dances, cheer leaders, Girls Athletic Association, or even graduation exercises. They show us movies like "Snow White." Their idea of a party is a valentine exchange or prizes for the best Halloween costume!

I'm all for junior high schools, as they get you ready for senior high. How can we older kids show the principal we're

— NEARLY 14, NOT 10

DEAR 14:

Unless the P-TA sees your point, I'm afraid you'll have to wait for high school. So let the P-TA know, via your mothers, how you feel. Good luck!—H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Indepe Independent-Journal.

VOLUNTEER

Also, sometimes the professional directing the volunteer feels he will be asking too much — thinking "this is a lady here out of good will and shouldn't be asked to do too much," says Mrs. Kelley.

A RATHER tolerant view is taken by the professional director of a longtime Marin agency. She believes that volunteers generally are doing the best they can, and you shouldn't expect too much . . . never more than they can realistically deliver.

"But the more you ask of a volunteer the better," Mrs. Kelley has found. "But first you must know what each volunteer is able to do. The program planning type can't do clerical work, just as in the business world.

"Generally a volunteer needs to feel that her horizons can be expanded and that she can contribute in an innovative way."

What's Making The Bath Decor News?

That once plain bath is now easily the gayest, newest looking room in the house.

What's making the news? Rich, deep tones — long the favorite color choice of both high fashion and interior design — are now brightly changing bath decor.

Deep, rich colors have become the popular choice in bath towels, bath tile, and fixtures.

It's easy to understand the popularity of vibrant colors for the bath. A few easy to coordinate accessories, harmonized in deep tones, produce a well-planned contemporary look that's quick and inexpensive to accomplish.

Vinyl and foil wall papers, prepasted for easy application, come in a variety of tones and prints, border-detailed mirrors add a custom look, and

USDA SAYS—

Broiler-Fryer Chickens In Abundant Supply This Week

WASHINGTON (UPI) — USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that abundant supplies of meat and poultry and good supplies of some fresh fruits and vegetables will be available to weekend shoppers in food stores and supermarkets.

BROILER-FRYER chickens and turkeys continue to be the most abundantly available meats. Pork cuts are again on the abundant lists and these include bacon, chops, roasts and hams. Beef cuts should be readily available in some areas. Fish fillets and steaks, fish sticks and portions, and canned tuna are fish buys to watch for, according to the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Cabbage, lettuce, and potatoes are again the most abundant vegetables. Grapefruit and oranges are the fruits in the most-abundant category with apples joining them in some areas.

IN THE WEST:

Butter is down in the Seattle area this week, and eggs, especially large and medium sizes, are again showing significant decreases in all West Coast markets.

Ready-to-cook chickens are generally slightly higher in Southern California, and fresh fryers have advanced in all markets, especially in Portland.

Wholesale beef has moved up somewhat in California, with price trends steady to mixed in the Northwest. Loins are higher in Portland. Most major fresh pork cuts are averaging a slight increase in Portland and Los Angeles.

Fruits and vegetables in best supply include apples, bananas, grapefruit, oranges, cabbage, lettuce and potatoes.

Best fish buys for the West are: Dungeness crabs, cod fillets, rock fish fillets, sole fillets, halibut steaks, oysters, rainbow trout, and canned tuna.

CONCERT REVIEW

Guest Conductor Johanos Molds Exciting Program

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

SAN FRANCISCO — After Seiji Ozawa almost any other young guest conductor of the San Francisco Symphony would seem tame, but Donald Johanos, musical director of the Dallas Symphony, had a distinctive style last night at the Opera House in his debut with the orchestra.

Not as spectacular as Ozawa, he nevertheless gave evidence of solid musicianship. He had a way of molding every phrase so visually that every gesture, particularly of his hands, was a translation into motion of musical form and idea.

THE SHOWPIECE

Most excitement was in the last movement of Rachmaninoff's "Symphonic Dances," Opus 45, which was the showpieve of the evening for the entire orchestra. A keen rhythmic sense was a market characteristic of all movements, especially the andante in waltz tempo.

In the other major numbers, the Chopin Concerto No. 2 in F Minor, with pianist Eugene Istomin as soloist, and Schuller's "Seven Studies on Themes of Paul Klee," emphasis was on the pianist in the former and on individual instruments or small group instrumentation in the latter.

Istomin had a true insight into Chopin's style, never yielding to the temptation to become the virtuoso at the expense of poetic feeling.

BEST MOVEMENT

In fact, the most successful of the movements was the larghetto played at just the right tempo to allow the full beauty of each note to be appreciated.

Johanos kept the orchestra to almost an obbligato, allowing the piano decidedly the dominant role as Chopin intended. For some, the tutti may have been too subdued.

Schuller's work was fascinating and much easier to understand than may totally abstract contemporary works because of its frankly programmatic nature.

ARTIST INSPIRES

Like Mussorgsky'a "Picture At an Exhibition," it was inspired by Klee's works of art, but in a very different way, for Mussorgsky's work expressed his own reactions to the pictures, whereas Schuller's purpose, as nearly as that is possible, was an interpretation of design, color and form in musical language. The painter Kleen having been originally a musician made his work peculiarly adaptable to musical translation.

How much more interesting it would have been had reproductions of the paintings been available to look at for those not familiar with them Their intriguing titles were "Antique Harmonies," "Abstract Trio," "Little Blue Devil," "The Twittering Machine," "Arabian Village," "An Eerie Moment" and "Pastorale."

Of the individual instruments featured in this work by the composer of the opera, "The Visitation," included in the last San Francisco Opera season, the most remarkable was the flute in the "Arabian Village."

Opening the concert was the short but pleasing overture to the singspiel "The Impressario," K486 by Mozart.

Preliminary hearing on the charge was set for April 4 in Municipal Court.

Gushee is accused of throwing muriatic acid at Robert Wilfred Fraser, 67, of San Francisco.

OCEAN FREEWAY — Sea lanes resembling a divided highway with "in" and "out" lanes, separated by a buffer zone, will be established by the Coast Guard in June for greater ship safety in the approaches to San Francisco Bay.

New Sea Lanes Plan Approved For Gate

The Coast Guard has approved a sea lanes system designed to reduce the chance of ship collision in the approaches to San Francisco Bay.

The system, scheduled to start in June, is similar to those already established for New York City and Delaware Bay.

Much like a divided highway for road traffic, the sea lanes consist of two one-way lanes separated by a buffer zone.

A circle with a radius of six miles will be established around the San Francisco lightship at the entrance to the bay and the lanes will fan out seaward from the circumference of the circle.

The use of the new safety lanes will reduce head-on collisions and close passing situations generally known to create the greatest danger, the Coast Guard reported.

Foreign and domestic lines are being encouraged to use these new voluntary safety lanes, the Coast Guard said .The basic chart of the area, scheduled for reprinting in June, will include the lanes.

Population Of Death Row Reaches A Record Of 70

The Death Row population at San Quentin Prison reached a record 70 yesterday with the arrival of Otis Ronald Coleman, 31, murder of an Oakland bar owner.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park said there is room for only three more condemned men on the row and that extra facilities will have to be built to care for more.

All executions in California have been stayed by a State Supreme Court order, pending a March 28 hearing on the constitutionality of the death penalty.

Park said emergency condemned unit facilities on the third floor of the prison's adjustment center will be expanded to provide accommodations for 88 condemned men.

In addition, the department of corrections is seeking funds to build 23 cells for condemned men on the adjustment center's second floor. This would bring the total accommodations for condemned men to 120.

Eye Tests Slated For Young Children

Testing of vision for children aged 3 to 6 years will be held at Park School auditorium, 360 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, on March 9 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and on the following day from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Boy Scouts headquarters, Second and A streets, San Rafael.

It is a Mill Valley and San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce community service project and part of a statewide vision handicap detection program. Screening will be conducted by members of the Marin County Optometric Society.

Marin, Cities Get Tax Shares

Marin County's share of the highway users taxes distributed last month was $110,021, State Controller Houston I. Flournoy reported yesterday.

Apportionments to Marin cities were: Belvedere, $1,940; Corte Madera, $5,258; Fairfax, $4,769; Larkspur, $5,288; Mill Valley, $7,480; Novato, $17,524; Ross, $2,040; San Anselmo, $8,191; San Rafael, $20,664; Sausalito, $4,369; and Tiburon, $4,008.

The funds were derived from gasoline tax, diesel fuel tax, motor vehicle fund and miscellaneous sources, Flournoy reported.

Union Strikes Second G.M. Assembly Unit

COMBINED AP & UPI

DETROIT — The United Auto Workers went on strike today at a second Chevrolet assembly plant when a strike deadline came and went without agreement on a local contract.

The UAW simultaneously walked out at two General Motors Corp. parts warehouses where plant-level contract talks also failed to meet the same deadline.

About 1,450 members of Local 645 went on strike against the Chevrolet assembly plant at Van Nuys, Calif., at 8 a.m. PST after an all-night bargaining session produced no settlement.

G.M. immediately shut down the companion Fisher Body plant, and laid off another 1,800 workers.

UAW locals also struck parts warehouses at Van Nuys and at the Portland, Ore., suburb of Beavertown. G.M. said the Van Nuys facility employs 400 workers and the Beaverton depot 150.

Still closed by a strike over local issues today was the Chevrolet assembly plant at Lordstown, Ohio. About 2,200 members of local 1112 walked out at Lordstown Tuesday in the first strike of the year against a G.M. assembly plant.

Negotiators agreed prior to a strike deadline today on a new contract for workers at a parts depot at Oakland.

With chances of success appearing slight, UAW Union and American Motors Corp. returned to the bargaining table today—the target date set by the union for settlement of a new national contract.

If no contract is reached today, the UAW's American Motors Council could decide on a strike deadline for the union's 17,500 members in AMC plants at Kenosha, Wis.; Milwaukee, and Grand Rapids, Mich.

13 Charged In Fee Burglarizing

SAN JOSE (AP)—Charges of burglarizing $100,000 in fees from city lots and garages have been filed against 13 former part-time municipal parking lot attendants.

April 10 was set yesterday as the date for their trials.

Civil suits seeking $10,000 damages from each of the defendants have been filed by the city.

Larkspur Approves Rezoning Of Land

The Larkspur Planning Commission Tuesday night approved rezoning of property along the west side of Locust Avenue between King and Ward Streets, from commercial to multiple residential zoning.

The change, on the commission's own motion, was because the land failed to develop commercially, officials said. Consideration of a tentative subdivision map for Lark Highlands was postponed.

BABY SITTER TRAINING PUT TO GOOD USE

Terry Lucchi, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sesto Lucchi of 8 Clover Hill Court, Marinwood, suffered a two-inch gash on her head yesterday afternoon when hit by a rock tossed accidentally by one of her friends on a hill behind the Marinwood Community Center.

She was treated at Kaiser Hospital in Terra Linda and released. Her mother siad the injury was minor, and Terry was back in school this morning.

Fire Chief James W. Cameron said two girls, who had completed the fire department's baby sitter classes, immediately applied first aid to the victim and prevented further loss of blood. The girls were Lori McEwen, 12, of 550 Cedarberry Lane, and Romney Lange, identified only as Lori's friend.

"This is a case where our baby sitter class really paid off," said Chief Cameron.

All-White Jury Is Challenged

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The attorney for Black Panther leader Huey Newton, charging that Negroes were excluded from grand juries in Alameda County, has asked that Newton's trial be dropped.

Attorney Charles Garry filed a petition yesterday for a writ of prohibition from the State District Court of Appeal.

Newton is charged with killing an Oakland policeman and wounding another last Oct. 28 and is scheduled to appear in Alameda County Superior Court on March 7 for setting of a trial date.

Redwood Dust Blamed In Lung Disease

STANFORD (UPI) — A link between sawdust from California's giant redwood trees and a rare chronic lung disease was reported yesterday by researchers at Stanford University.

The disease, called sequoiosis, was found in the inflamed lungs of a man who worked for 17 of his 38 years in a sawmill. He had suffered shortness of breathe, coughed intensely and had lost 40 pounds.

The researchers —Drs. Herbert I. Cohen, Thomas C. Merigan, Jon Kosek and Frederick Eldridge—said the patient's condition improved when he was removed from the environment of the sawmill.

The scientists said their work at the university's school of medicine indicated the lung condition was caused by reaction of the man's immune system to fungi in redwood dust.

Tests showed that inhaled redwood sawdust found its way into the alveoli, tiny air sacs in the lungs. There the sawdust particles caused a tissue reaction identical to that which occurs in patients who have breathed dust from maple bark, moldy hay, mushrooms and other substances.

The doctors said they noticed identical lung reactions of animals to sawdust fungi from cedar, mahogany and ash. Wood has not been reported previously as a factor in lung disease, they said.

Arabs Fire Upon Israeli Vehicles

Hamilton Gets Medal For Jobs Policy

California's Distinguished Service Award as employer of the year for 1967 was presented to Hamilton Air Force Base yesterday in Sacramento by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Col. Harry W. Shoup, commander of the 78th Fighter Wing at Hamilton accepted the award which was given for the base's record of hiring handicapped persons.

Three groups benefit from this program, Colonel Shoup said: They are the workers who find new jovs; the state which finds more people employed and the Air Force which finds excellent employees.

Robert F. Girard, chairman of the Governor's Committee for Employment of the Handicapped; Paul Boetius of the California Department of Employment and Frank McGill, director of personnel at Hamilton, attended the presentation.

More than 90 of the 1,225 civilian employees at Hamilton have physical handicaps, according to McGill.

Rough Time Seen For Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said today he has doubts whether open housing legislation will win approval of Congress this year.

A compromise Senate civil rights bill unveiled yesterday includes a tough housing section sponsored by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen. Supporters are counting on Dirksen to use his influence to supply enough votes to pass the measure.

Dirksen was at Ford's elbow today when the Michigan congressman recalled that he voted against a fair housing proposal in 1966. Ford said he favors local and state fair housing statutes but has doubts about federal legislation to bar discrimination in housing.

"I think some civil rights legislation will be approved," said Ford when asked about house prospects, "but I can't tell at this point whether this (housing) provision will be approved." Senators vote on it first.

The key vote comes tomorrow when the Senate votes on a cloture motion to limit debate on civil rights legislation. Indications are that the motion will carry, clearing the way for passage of the negotiated bill.

Dirksen unveiled the compromise package yesterday. It has a broad prohibition against discrimination in the sale or rental of housing, and provisions to protect negroes and civil rights workers against racial violence.

Senate liberals, on tenterhooks for six weeks, were delighted by the compromise reached by Dirksen, their representatives, and Attorney General Ramsey Clark.

Laotian Troops Repulse Attack

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — A spokesman for the army in the southernmost military region said today two companies of North Vietnamese troops attacked Lao Ngam in a bid to take the town. He said the attack was repulsed.

The attack followed a barrage of 122mm mortar fire on military installations of the 802 Mobile Group which defends the town. Some 20 rounds of mortars were fired on the positions. No report on casualties was available.

Cairo Travelers Say Nasser Facing Unrest

BEIRUT (UPI)—Rioting in the streets by thousands of workers and students has seriously undermined the authority of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, travelers from Cairo said today.

They said the riots grew from frustration over the Arab defeat in the Middle East war and involved elements of both the right and the left. The disorder has presented Nasser's regime with its greatest challenge since the 1952 Egyptian revolution that started him on the road to power, the travelers said.

They said government spokesmen charged both Communists and the rightist Moslem Brotherhood organization with exploiting what began as an authorized voicing of grievances.

The immediate cause was the relatively light sentences and acquittals for the former air force commanders accused of permitting defeat in the war. Rioting burst out in Cairo and other key points.

In an outburst Saturday crowds chanted "purge, purge," "hang the traitors," and "down with Heikal, we want a free press," the reports said.

They referred to Mohammed Hassanein Heikal, overlord of the Egyptian press whose office at the newspaper Al Ahram was the target of demonstrations.

Marin Unit 1, United Republicans of California, has Hugh Pessner of Greenbrae as president.

Business Tax Cut Is Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assemblyman John G. Veneman, R-Modesto, proposed a bill today to cut the business inventory tax by 15 per cent.

Veneman's measure would use the $39 million set aside in Gov. Ronald Reagan's $1 billion tax bill last summer as "seed" money for an eventual elimination of the inventory tax.

Reagan favors an eventual elimination of the tax. He contends it is regressive and discourages businesses from locating in the state.

35-Cent Hike In Tax Rate Is Proposed

Marinwood Community Services District board last night prepared to ask voters in June for a raise in the district tax rate from the present $1 to $1.35.

Directors asked Genevieve Bolding, business manager-secretary, to have the county counsel draw up a resolution, putting the tax raise on the June primary ballot.

Final action on that resolution will be taken at an adjourned meeting at 8 p.m. March 13, when the citizens will have a chance to express their opinions.

The Marinwood Community Services District board also:

POOL FEES — Raised swimming pool fees for residents to $35 per family and $17.50 for single members for this summer. Fees last year were $30 and $15.

SPRING SWIM — Approved the use of the pool from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. for the Spring Swim Club from April 15 to June 15. Membership in the club is $7 per family. The pool will open the weekend of April 13.

AQUACADE — Approved use of the pool for the annual Marin Ballet Aquacade on June 8-9.

CONFERENCE — Authorized William A. Gordon, recreation director, to attend the annual state recreation conference in San Diego from Sunday through Wednesday.

Hearing On Highway Projects Is Monday

A recommended list of highway projects for Marin will be discussed with representatives of the state Division of Highways at a meeting jointly sponsored by the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau and the state Chamber of Commerce at noon Monday at Tiburon Lodge.

Presented at the meeting will be the suggested list, developed at earlier meetings between members of the Marin chamber's highway committee, representatives of other local chambers and the Marin County Department of Public Works.

School Busing Feuding Erupts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Coordinating Council for Integrated Schools says the decision of Supt. Robert Jenkins to drop plans to bus San Francisco pupils was "premature and unwise."

The council asked the Board of Education last night not to rule out busing despite Jenkins' decision.

The superintendent said earlier that he reached his conclusion after a series of public forums showed that "nobody—black, white or Chinese—really seems to want busing."

Federal Panel Differs On Press Restriction

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A committee of federal judge today put forward proposals to protect criminal suspects from undue publicity without subjecting the press to possible punishment for contempt.

The group, headed by Judge Irving R. Kaufman of New York, made its recommendations to the U.S. Judicial Conference, which concluded a two-day meeting here yesterday. The conference is polling all of the nation's 539 federal judges for their views on the committee's work, which is designed as a framework for federal rules of court.

A spokesman for the conference, which is headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren of the U.S. Supreme Court, said the views of the news media and "all interested people" would be received.

In contrast to the "free press, fair trial" policy approved by the American Bar Associatiosn (ABA) at its February meeting in Chicago, the Kaufman group did not propose to exclude the press from preliminary hearings and other proceedings where trial juries are not present.

ABA policy, approved almost unanimously by the association's house of delegates, calls for exclusion of press and public from pre-trial hearings and portions of the trial if the defendant's lawyer so requests.

The ABA recommendations are known as the Reardon Report, named for Justice Paul C. Reardon of the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court who headed the drafting committee. They are now being promoted in state courts and legislatures.

In rejecting the press exclusion idea, the Kaufman group said "experiences in the state courts differ from those in the federal court."

Both the Reardon and Kaufman reports would prohibit, on pain of disciplinary action, disclosure by attorneys of information about a suspect's prior criminal record and confessions or the expected testimony of witnesses.

The judges rejected as "unwise" and possibly unconstitutional "any direct curbs or restraint" on the press in the publication of "potentially prejudicial material." But they

Sherman Kent Quits CIA Post

Sherman Kent, 65, of Kentfield, national estimates director and board chairman of the Central Intelligence Agency, has retired.

He has left his post in Washington and will go to France to complete a Yale University thesis on 1840 French elections, according to his brother, Roger, also of Kentfield, and former state Democratic chairman.

Sherman plans to return to Kentfield this summer, his brother reported. Sherman was a Yale professor of history before joining the CIA.

Body Is Found In Canvas Bag

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Homcide inspectors are investigating discovery of the body of a woman found in a canvas bag at an abandoned meat packing plant.

The victim died from a massive skull fracture, police said.

"She could have been dead for three months or as long as a year," Coroner Henry Turkel said.

The body was discovered on a couch in a tool room at an abandoned meat packing plant.

Courtroom Press Bans Are Growing

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Newsmen have been barred from court rooms in Las Vegas, Nev., and New York City by judges who have ruled that pretrial evidence might be detrimental to defendants.

The two instances were apparently the first growing from adoption last week by the American Bar Association of the controversial Reardon report that recommends prosecutors, law enforcement officers and the courts restrict information released to news media about witnesses and defendants in criminal cases.

Justice Court Judge Joe Pavlikowski in Las Vegas, upon a defense motion, ruled Tuesday that newsmen and spectators be cleared from the courtroom during a pretrial hearing for Kenneth Hicks, 35, of San Diego, charged with murder in the death of a North Las Vegas cab driver.

ATTORNEY'S STAND

Richard Bryan, a public defender serving as Hicks' lawyer, denied his request was based on the ABA's recent inclusion of the Reardon report in its code of ethics. He said, rather, "we thought that by closing the preliminary hearing there would be lesss speculation and publicity on the nature of the evidence and testimony."

The Las Vegas Sun and the Las Vegas Review-Journal both protested editorially closing pretrial proceedings to newsmen.

In New York City, State Supreme Court Justice Charles Marks Tuesday ordered newsmen from the pretrial hearing for James E. Branigan Jr., a former U.S. attorney indicted for killing police lieutenant Edward J. Drum during a fight two years ago.

MINUTES SEALED

Marks said he thought he was "in accord" with most of the ABA recommendations on trial coverage. He said the trial itself would be open to the public.

Marks' decision came on motion by Branigan's lawyer, who also asked that the minutes of the pretrial hearing be sealed because some of the defendant's statements at the hearing might never be introduced in evidence at the trial.

At St. Paul, Minn., Ramsey County district judges voted Tuesday to deny artists permission to make sketches in the courtroom at the trial of David Hoskins, accused of murdering his wife and four children.

The trial jurist, district judge Ronald Hackey, ruled that an artist for a local television station could not sketch in court during the trial.

Two Aerospace Unions Seeking Major Raises

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The heads of the nation's two giant aerospace unions say they will seek major wage and benefit hikes when contract negotiations begin in May.

Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, said yesterday the UAW was prepared "to spend all of the $65 million we have in our strike fund, if necessary, to achieve a fuller measure of economic and social justice for workers in this industry."

"And we are united in our determination to achieve a historic contract with these giant corporations," added P. L. Siemiller, president of the International Association of Machinists. Siemiller said the industry can afford substantial contract improvements this year.

Both Reuther and Siemiller spoke at a joint conference of the UAW and IAM, called to map strategy for negotiations.

Draft Reforms Held Unlikely

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Despite mounting criticism across the nation, Chairman Richard B. Russell of the Senate Armed Services Committee said today he saw no need now for overhauling the draft.

The Georgia Democrat's statement came after a Senate speech yesterday by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., in which Kennedy offered a bill calling for a number of draft reforms.

Russell, whose committee reviewed the Selective Service law just a year ago, said most Congressional complaints about the draft "can be remedied by regulation if the President so desires."

Novato Youth Denies Series Of Charges

Robert Doyle Fuller, 18, of 214 Hatch Road, Novato, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to charges of possessing marijuana, contributing to the delinquency of a minor, petty theft and obstructing a police officer.

Preliminary hearing on the felony marijuana charge was scheduled for March 8. Jury trial on the misdemeanor charges was set for March 21.

Mitchell Dorn Samios, 19, of 2184 Novato Boulevard, Novato, arrested with Fuller by Novato police on Friday, has been charged with petty theft and obstructing a police officer.

Judge Hadden W. Roth of municipal court referred him to the probation office to determine if he is eligible for juvenile court. Samois is to return to court March 8.

A juvenile arrested with them has been cited for possession of marijuana and curfew violation.

Samios and Fuller allegedly stole a coin box from a service station's soft drink machine.

Poverty War Panel Upset By Members' Absenteeism

The Marin County Economic Opportunity Council failed last night for the second consecutive meeting to assemble a voting majority, but still got off a few shots in the antipoverty war.

Troubled by sparse attendance recently, the council indicated it would expell one member, Glen Goff of Marin City, for failing to attend the last five meetings without apparent reason.

Last night, only 10 of the 22 members appeared. The council was to have picked a committee to nominate new officers, but had to defer action.

Chairman Arhtur L. Brown asked letters be sent to the absentees "cautioning" them to be present at the next meeting, March 13, as new officers must be selected by the time the new fiscal year for the EOC begins in April.

Some progress in the poverty war was made, however. Volunteers formed a committee to advise on the course of a manpower program and one to propose other poverty projects. As long as persons volunteered to serve, no vote on appointment of the committees was necessary, council members agreed.

Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella, an EOC member, opposed formation of the manpower committee because its purpose was "vague." EOC Executive Director Victor H. Cary said job filling was a principal aim of the group.

"If there's one thing happening with community action in this county, it's that someone has always dragged his feet," Cary asserted. "The county dragged its feet when it had the program and we're still doing it.

"Nothing is going in manpower. I know of 100 people out of jobs in Marin City and 40 to 50 more in San Rafael."

The EOC is now compiling information on jobs available in the county and number of potential workers and the fields into which they could fit.

Council members favored a proposal by Campanella to fill open spots on the manpower committee with businessmen who are not members of the EOC.

In another development last night, Cary told the council three positions in an operating engineers' pre-apprenticeship training program would be available to Marin youth through the San Francisco office of Economic Opportunity. The trainees would be selected by the council, Cary said, probably from a list provided by the Neighborhood Youth Corps in Marin.

Drath Takes Steps To Run For Congress

Phillip Drath of San Rafael took out nomination papers yesterday for an attempt at the Democratic nomination for the new Sixth Congressinal District seat held by Rep. William S. Mailliard, R.-San Francisco.

Drath, 54, of 35 Bellevue Drive, announced his candidacy for the nomination earlier this month. He was the unsuccessful peace candidate for the Democratic nomination in the first congressional district in 1966, losing narrowling to Marin Supervisor Thomas T. Storer.

Since that time, however, Drath's home has been included in Mailliard's sixth district.

Also taking out papers yesterday at the county elections office was Mill Valley city councilman Michael Wornum, who is seeking the supervisorial seat in Southern Marin's third distirct being vacated by Supervisor Peter H. Behr.

Taking out nomination papers for Republican and Democratic central committees were:

William S. Richards, Republican, First District; Charles Michaels and Matthew A. Graham, Republican, Second District; Frank P. Myers, Republican, Fourth District; and Mrs. E. Barrett Guthrie, Democratic, Second District.

Check Bilk Case To Upper Court

Three men accused of trying to bilk the Bank of Marin in San Rafael with fraudulent checks Feb. 13 were held to answer the charges in Superior Court after a Municipal Court preliminary hearing yesterday.

To appear March 11 in Superior Court on charges of possessing fraudulent checks are brothers Walter and Mark Jenkins, aged 29 and 23, and Henry Charles Kates, 23, all of Richmond.

Police have said they suspect the three belong to a nationwide fraud gang which has bilked Bay Area banks of more than $10,000 in six months.

Should Delinquents Be Named In Paper?

Publishing the names of juvenile offenders in the newspaper would be one of those "panaceas" that are often eagerly seized upon by the public — and it wouldn't do much good, Walter H. Busher, the county's chief probation officer, said today.

Busher and a Kentfield psychiatrist, Dr. Thomas P. Lowry, in a panel discussion on KTIM's "Sounding Board" radio program, took a dim view of publishing the names of offenders under 18.

OFFICERS DISAGREE

But they were opposed by two law officers, Sgt. Alfred Howenstein of the San Anselmo police department, and Harvey Teague, head of the sheriff's department juvenile division.

Howenstein and Teague said that if discrimination were used in choosing the names of juvenile offenders to be published, it might deter some of the youngsters, and in addition it might get their parents interested in doing something about the situation.

No one came up with a method of choosing which juveniles' names would be published and which would not, and Dr. Lowry said he thought the opposing viewpoints were "the old conflict between the 'fuzz' and the 'head shrinkers'."

EASY WAY OUT?

Busher said the idea of publishing juvenile offenders' names is a simple and inexpensive solution which appeals to the average person.

"The average citizen receives from his newspaper just enough information to get his emotions aroused," he said. "When we are offended, we feel like punishing the person who offends us. We immediately find appealing any suggestion which would appear to accomplish this in a straight forward, instantaneous way."

"I am opposed to the publicizing of the names on an indiscriminate basis, and would expect to find few situations on an individual basis where the good would outweigh the harmful by-product."

Teague said he had "mixed emotions" about publishing juvenile names, but he said he thought it might be worth a try.

'LOST CONTROL'

"We seem to have lost control of the young people in this country," said Teague. "There has been a great growth of disrespect among them. Why not try this. We should use any tool we have at our command."

Sergeant Howenstein said he thought so, too. "The youth often has an air of unconcern, the idea that nothing will happen to him," he said. "He might give more consideration to his planned conduct. The parents might be more interested in protecting the family name."

"The use of the juvenile's name should not apply in every case, but the potential to print them should be there."

No, said Dr. Lowry. "It might increase crime by the young person, if he enjoys the publicity —or if the use of his name heightened his resentment," he said.

TEST PROPOSED

In any event, he said, the printing of juveniles' names shouldn't be put into effect without information on how it has worked in other communities, or without some kind of laboratory test. The names could be printed in one community and withheld in another, to find out how it works out, Dr. Lowry said.

Busher said someone would have to decide which names should be printed and which should not. He was sharply critical of newspapers for not "practicing what they preach" in news of juvenile delinquency. He said publishers, on the editorial pages, "call for public exposure of delinquents and their parents in brave and stirring terms."

He said newspapers could publish the names of juvenile offenders now, if they wanted to, but don't because they would have to "justify the practice to citizens they've provoked, who would storm the newspaper's ramparts in rage."

Secrecy Order Not In Effect, Judge Holds

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court denied today that his secrecy order is still in effect in the case of two men accused of killing Curtis and Shirley Ackley in their Santa Venetia house trailer Jan. 12.

Judge Goldstein ordered Feb. 1 that witnesses, defense attorneys and members of the district attorney's and sheriff's office not discuss the case with the press.

In shielding the accused, Kenneth Allen Preston and Johnny Lee Sommerhalder, from pretrial publicity, Judge Goldstein cited a Supreme Court Decision on the widely publicized murder trial of Dr. Sam Sheppard in Cleveland.

LOWER COURT ORDER

His broad order barred all involved in the case from discussing with the press any testimony at the preliminary hearing and, if the case proceeds that far, at the trial.

He ordered them not to indicate any belief in the guilt or innocence of the two men or make any statement about the merits of the case. He also banned all discussion of the defendants, their background or evidence against them.

Today, the judge said that order ended, as far as he is concerned, when the case reached Superior Court. He said he would not now punish anyone who discussed the case.

When Sommerhalder and Preston appeared in Superior Court, Judge Harold J. Haley did not reissue Judge Goldstein's order. He said he considered it still to be in effect.

If Judge Haley thinks the order should continue, then he should make it himself, Judge Goldstein said today.

NO JURISDICTION

"I have no intention of punishing anybody for talking about that case now," he said. "I just don't have the jurisdiction."

Judge Goldstein added that, if he were sitting in Superior Court, he would continue the order.

"It's consistent with my philosophy and the Supreme Court's decision," he said.

The judge said he had no choice but to close the Sommerhalder and Preston preliminary hearing when the defendants requested it be closed.

"The law requires it," he said.

Judge Goldstein also ordered that the transcript of the preliminary hearing be kept from the public. The state penal code requires this for all preliminary hearings, he said.

Judge Goldstein acknowledged that in Marin, most preliminary hearing transcripts are placed in the public files and said he keeps them out of those files only at the request of the defense.

Park Building Acquisition Fund Set In Sausalito

The Sausalito Recreation Commission last night agreed to seek $46,000 in the 1968-9 budget for first-year funding of a five-year capital improvement plan for park acquisition and construction.

The sum would include $20,000 toward purchase of property in the waterfront general plan, $17,500 for construction in Princess Street park, and $8,500 for construction in Gabrielson Park, the land just deeded back to the city by Madden and Lewis which was to have been the city library site.

The commission also tentatively set a $7,500 budget for work on existing parks in 1968-9

The operations and maintenance budget will be discussed at the commission's next meeting March 21.

Builder Sued Over Damage From Slides

George and Betty Devany of 4 Corte La Paz, San Rafael, filed a $75,000 damage suit in Marin Superior Court yesterday against the developers of their house, which they said has been damaged by earth slides.

The foundation of the house has settled and cracks have appeared in its $10,000 swimming pool, walls, fireplace and windows, they claim.

The Devanys said they paid $38,525 for the house. They ask $50,000 general damages, $25,000 punitive and exemplary damages, plus special damages according to proof.

Named as defendants in the suit are: Perma-Bilt Homes, Inc., Perma-Bilt Realty Co., Perma-Bilt Development Corp., Perma-Bilt Enterprises; Dubin Developers, Inc., Rancho Investment Co., Anthony Pools, Whitlow Hoffman and Albitron Associates, and Gribaldo, Jacobs, Jones and Associates.

Novato Faces Ending Of Ambulance Service

At midnight Sunday, the Novato Ambulance Co. will end its emergency ambulance service, owner Jack Kinney announced today.

Since he took over the ambulance service eight months ago, he has been losing about $1,000 per month, Kinney said.

"I took over after Michael Mannick and Mercy Ambulance could not make a go of it and did it as a service to the community," he said. "No individual can keep on losing money like that."

Kinney will keep his two ambulances for making transfers, but will not be allowed to use red light and siren, he said. He will give up his radio communications and direct telephone connection with the county's communications center.

"The matter will come up before the board of supervisors on Tuesday and if they can come up with some workable plan for a subsidy on bad collections or give some help on dry runs, then we'll be back in business," Kinney said.

To operate his ambulance business, he said he had five men on standby with four of them on duty at a time at a weekly salary of $125. Other costs cited were: the direct telephone to the communications center, $65 per month; the two-way radios in each ambulance cost $1,000 each, and insurance on both ambulances, $2,500 per year.

"With expenses like that and the fact that we are only making about 50 per cent collections, we just cannot afford to stay in the business," he said.

If an emergency arises in the City of Novato and the police telephone him, he can pick up the victim and take him to the hospital without using siren or red lights, he said. However, he could not do this on Highway 101 and accident victims there would have to wait for an ambulance from San Rafael.

Pedestrian In Fair Condition

Basil Catachanas, 34, of 100 South Street, Sausalito, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital after being hit by a car in Sausalito at 9:20 p.m. yesterday.

Catachanas had a neck sprain and bruises of the left leg, hospital spokesman said.

Sausalito police booked the driver of the car, Byron Latham Haviside Jr., 36, of 22 Edwards Avenue, Sausalito, for investigation of drunken driving causing injury to a pedestrian.

Police said Catachana was struck as ne walked across Turney Street when Haviside turned from Bridgeway onto Turney. Haviside posted $1,150 bail to appear Monday in Marin Municipal Court.

The cost of printing the bonds will be borne by the district.

RIGHT OF REJECTION: Said Board of Supervisors reserves the right in its discretion to reject any and all bids and to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

PROMPT AWARD: The Board of Supervisors will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than 24 hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for receipt of proposals; provided that the award may be made after the expiration of the specified time if the bidder shall not have given the Board of Supervisors notice in writing of the withdrawal of such proposal.

PROMPT DELIVERY AND PAYMENT: Delivery of said bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the office of the County Treasurer of said County as soon as the bonds can be prepared, which it is estimated will be within 30 days from the day of sale. Payment of the purchase price must be made in funds immediately available to the County Treasurer in San Rafael, California.

RIGHT OF CANCELLATION: The successful bidder shall have the right, at his option, to cancel the contract of purchase if the bonds are not tendered for delivery within 60 days from the date of sale thereof, and in such event, the successful bidder shall be entitled to return of the deposit accompanying his bid.

FORM OF BID: All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds hereby offered for sale, and for not less than the par value thereof and accrued interest to date of delivery. Such bids, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Board of Supervisors of said County, and endorsed "Proposal for School Bonds of Mill Valley School District of Marin County."

BID CHECK: With each bid must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check for $5,000.00, drawn on a bank or trust company transacting business in the State of California, payable to the order of the County Treasurer, to secure said school district from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. In addition, bidders are requested (but not required) to supply an estimate of the total net interest cost to the district on the basis of their respective bids, which shall be considered as informative only and not binding on either the bidder or the district. Checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by the County Clerk by mail upon the award of the bonds. No interest will be paid upon deposit made by any bidder.

There is no controversy or litigation pending concerning the validity of the above issue, the corporate existence of said district or the title of the officers to their respective offices and the Board of Supervisors will deliver to the successful bidder a no-litigation certificate certifying to the foregoing as of and at the time of the delivery of the bonds.

* ☼ * ● Symbols For Stars In Order Of Brightness

Jupiter Dominates In Evening Sky

By SCIENCE SERVICE

Jupiter, the only planet visible all evening in March, shines so brightly in the southeast that you can hardly miss it.

Its position, in the constellation of Leo, the lion, is shown on the accompanying maps. These depict the sky as it looks about 10 p.m., local time, on March 1, an hour earlier at the middle of the month and two hours earlier at the end.

Although not shown on the maps because they set before these times, Mars and Saturn also are visible early in the evening at the beginning of the month. They'll be close together, because Mars passes Saturn on the night of March 3. Both planets, in Pisces, the fishes, are quite faint because they are now far from Earth. By the end of March, Saturn, setting with the sun, will no longer be visible. Mars will remain in the evening sky for a few months longer.

Brightest star of the March evening is Sirius, low in the south, in Canis Major, the greater dog. The lesser dog, Canis Minor, containing Procyon, is higher. To the right of these figures stands Orion, the warrior, with two stars of the first magnitude: Betelgeuse, above, and Rigel, below. A row of three fainter stars between them forms Orion's belt.

Directly west, at the times for which the maps are drawn, stands Taurus, the bull. Red Aldebaran marks his eye. Above Taurus are Gemini, the twins. Two stars are marked: first magnitude Pollux and second magnitude Castor.

Three other bright stars stand toward the east. One is Regulus, in Leo, where Jupiter shines many times brighter. Regulus is at the end of the handle of the Sickle, six stars that make a reasonably good outline of that implement.

Below Leo is Virgo, the virgin, with Spica. It is so low that absorption by the earth's atmosphere dims it considerably. To the left, in Bootes, the herdsman, is Arcturus, similarly dimmed.

Another way to find Arcturus is to look to the northeast for the Big Dipper, part of the great bear, Ursa Major. The two pointers in the Dipper's bowl indicate the direction of the pole star, Polaris. Follow the curve of the dipper's handle around toward the right to find Arcturus.

Venus continues visible in the morning. Rising about an hour ahead of the sun, it's low in the east at dawn.

Ever since winter started in December, the sun has been moving northward in the sky. On March 20, at 5:22 a.m., PST, it reaches the halfway point. Then it stands directly over a point on the equator, in the Indian Ocean, north of the Seychelles.

It's at the point in the sky called the vernal equinox. When the sun gets there, spring begins in the Northern Hemisphere and autumn in the Southern Hemisphere.

Jupiter isn't the only planet in Leo this month. However, you'll need a good-sized telescope to see one of the others: the far-distant Pluto. It's a little to the left of Denebola, which marks Leo's tail. On March 11 Pluto is directly opposite the sun and closest to Earth — but still 2,886 million miles away.

Uranus also is opposite the sun this month, on St. Patrick's day. Its magnitude is 5.7, slightly brighter than 6.0, generally considered the limit of naked-eye visibility. But this is under ideal conditions of darkness and clarity of the sky. Near a city, with smoke and glare, it's difficult to see stars much fainter than fourth magnitude.

Just to the right of the word Virgo on the southern sky map (under Denebola, in Leo) three stars form a small triangle. The lowest is Beta Virginis, and Uranus is just to the left. A pair of binoculars will help you locate it. In a small telescope it appears as a greenish disc, quite different from the point image of a star. Uranus is now at a distance of 1,671 million miles.

March also brings the year's first eclipse, but relatively few people will see it. On March 28 the moon will come in front of the sun. From some parts of the earth there will be a partial solar eclipse, with up to nine-tenths of the sun being covered.

This will be visible from an area in the South Pacific Ocean, at the southern tip of South America and in Antarctica near the Ross Sea. This region includes Marie Byrd Land, Victoria Land and Wilkes Land. The scientists in Antarctica will watch it.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

After A Heart Attack, Some Activity Is Most Essential

VAN DELLEN

Men who have recovered from coronary thrombosis need not be doomed to a sedentary existence or to invalidism. The majority are encouraged to return to work and to indulge in some form of exercise.

Activity improves morale as well as circulation.

The coronary arteries supply oxygen and other nutrients to the heart muscle. When one of these vessels is obstructed by a clot or thrombus, some of the muscle fibers are robbed of their blood supply and die.

THE OUTCOME hinges on whether the obstruction took place in the main coronary artery or in one of its smaller branches.

Following recovery, there is no need to live a vegetative existence. Statistics have proved that men and women who return to work live longer than those who retire. But this does not mean the resumption of heavy labor or returning to a job with tremendous responsibility and tension.

Exercise is not harmful provided the individual enjoys what he is doing. Some prefer walking; others like golf, croquet, cycling, bowling, or swimming in warm water.

Competitive sports are out because they are likely to be associated with tension. The same is true of exertion that leads to angina pectoris or shortness of breath.

WE KNOW that moderate exercise stimulates new blood vessels to bridge the blocked artery, thus bringing a fresh source of blood to the starving heart muscle. These arteries (collaterals) replace old, narrowed vessels.

An operation to bring in new sources of blood now is an established procedure. It is safe but the surgeon is likely to insist upon a variety of sophisticated tests before he consents to operate.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

PURPLE HIPS

Mrs. E. R. writes: I have purple lines on my hips. Why?

REPLY

Striae appear in this area as purple streaks in heavy people who have lost considerable weight. They also are associated with certain glandular disorders. Now and then these lines develop after taking adrenal hormones over a long period of time for arthritis, rheumatic fever, or asthma. I assume you are not referring to black and blue marks that indicate hemorrhage under the skin.

COLDS AND VEGETABLES

A mother writes: My 6-year-old daughter has a continuous cold. Do you think it is because she won't eat green vegetables?

REPLY

No. If she drinks milk and eats fruit, she will obtain the same minerals and vitamins she would get in green vegetables. Furthermore, diet has little to do with colds and, in addition, your child is at an age when colds are common.

GROUP THERAPY

A reader writes: What is meant by group therapy?

REPLY

Group therapy is used most frequently in treating various emotional disorders. The patients assemble in a room for open discussion of their problems, in the presence of a physician. The doctor then offers advice that is applicable to all.

HIVES OF THE BRAIN

A reader writes: Have you ever heard of an illness called hives of the brain?

REPLY

No. This would imply that the brain is swollen due to an allergy. It may be a pet expression used by your physician to explain the cause of a headache.

Today's Health Hint — Heating units must be vented properly.

Riot Probers Ask Tax Plan To Aid Slums

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's Commission on Civil Disorders will recommend that tax incentives be granted industry to enlist its aid in combatting unemployment in the slums.

Republicans in Congress have repeatedly advocated such a move, but their legislation has been firmly resisted by the Johnson administration and by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., the House's strong man on tax legislation.

RIOT REPORT DUE

Sources disclosed the commission's tax incentive recommendation soon after the 11-member panel completed and unanimously approved its massive report on the riots that rocked the nation last summer.

The bulky document, to be issued this weekend, will be "uncomfortable for everybody, not just the government," said Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois, commission chairman.

Under the commission's recommendation, tax incentives would be given industries that located plants in slums and depressed areas. Similar incentives would go to firms that undertook programs to train unemployed slum residents.

DETAILS SECRET

The sources would not divulge other details, but it was understood the proposals were similar to the Republican-sponsored legislation strongly opposed by the Treasury Department. Republicans have billed their measures as alternatives to Democratic antipoverty programs.

Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, has spoken out repeatedly against tax credits, saying any such step "which reduces budget receipts is just as likely to force a general tax increase as appropriations for direct expenditures."

CRITICISMS HINTED

There were other indications that the commission's final report would criticize present administration antipoverty programs.

One commission member, Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., told the Senate Appropriations Committee yesterday that federal antipoverty programs in Detroit, Nework and New Haven, Conn., "were never able to reach enough of people who so sorely needed them. Only small fractions of eligible people have been assisted."

Brooke joined two other commission members, Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York and Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., in urging the committee to quickly approve $150 million in federal funds for a summer job program.

Camera Stolen

Clifford Davis Reynolds of 37 Lomita Drive, Alto, complained to sheriff's deputies Monday that someone stole a $170 camera from his car, parked in front of his house the night before. Deputies, reporting the theft yesterday, said the car was unlocked.

Humphrey Says Hanoi Helped By U.S. Split

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said last night he believes "the recent wave of discontent and uncertainty in American is the only victory Ho Chi Minh has had since America became fully involved" in the Vietnam war.

Speaking during an interview broadcast over a network of 12 radio and television stations (Group W, Westinghouse Broadcasting Co.), Humphrey interpreted the recent Communist attacks in Vietnam during the Tet holidays as an attempt to "strike a psychological blow, not in Vietnam, but in America."

The Vice President said the United States is going through a "very difficult period" in Vietnam but he said the "odds are on the side of the Allies, if we stay with it."

He said the end of "this terrible struggle" in Vietnam would come a little sooner "if we buckle down to the task and understand that this is an important development for the security of the United States and the Free World."

Humphrey called for a halt to predictions that the cities of this country "will be put on fire or that there will be violence" in the big cities this summer.

He said democratic processes provide a redress of grievances and "I believe that we have to have law and order in our cities as we pursue the development of our cities." He said predictions of violence are "not helpful."

"What we really need in America today is a positive program for the American people about how we can rectify the injustices of our society in a peaceful manner," he said.

"The first place to get peace is right where you live," he said. "We can get it in the cities, the towns, the countryside. I think we can."

Rafferty Contends LBJ Ignoring Ike's Peace Plan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dr. Max Rafferty accused President Johnson's administration last night of failing to seriously consider a plan to end the war in Vietnam that had been suggested by former President Eisenhower.

Rafferty, candidate for the Republican nomination to the U.S. Senate, said if elected he "would introduce a Senate resolution urging our new Republican president to adopt the Eisenhower plan to end the war.

"Three times in the last 15 months, General Eisenhower has presented in detail a comprehensive plan for ending our participation in that bloody conflict," he told Loyola University Young Republicans.

"I would also vote as senator to place the nation fully in support of its fighting men overseas until the war has been stopped. If this means approving a presidential proposal to declare a national emergency, establishing various controls over strategic materials and services and doing other similarly distasteful but necessary things . . . then so be it," said Rafferty.

The state superintendent also said he would urge immediate abolition of federal programs such as the Job Corps which he said are too costly and have not been doing the job they are supposed to do.

Morse Says U.S. Provoked Fight In Tonkin Gulf

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., one of the leading critics of President Johnson's Vietnam policies, says the United States deliberately provoked the Gulf of Tonkin incident of 1964 because it was "out to bloody North Vietnam's nose."

Morse said yesterday he did not believe even Johnson knew the real truth about the Tonkin incident, in which North Vietnamese torpedo boats attacked the U. S. destroyers Maddox and Turner Joy. The attacks preceded U. S. bombing of North Vietnam.

Morse charged that the commander of the destroyer committed a blunder that has never been corrected.

Stereo Tape Is Taken From Car

Two cars were broken into Tuesday, reported San Rafael police yesterday, and property amounting to $200 stolen.

A stereo player and suitcase containing papers were removed from the car of Daniel S. Nudelman while it was parked outside his home at 43 McNear Drive.

The car of Kenneth J. Murphy of 10 Sonoma Street, Apt. 8, was entered outside his home and floor mats, shift knobs and a mug stolen.

Highway Patrol Firing Argued

SANTA ANA (AP)— Charges of "inefficiency" were raised in an appeals hearing for a California Highway Patrolman who says he was fired for writing too few tickets and making too few arrests.

Burton Bodenschatz, 52, a 16-year veteran of the patrol, was fired Dec. 27 by Commissioner Harold W. Sullivan, who said the officer showed a "lack of energy, enthusiasm and interest" in his job.

His superiors accused him yesterday of failing "to make stops for all observable violations," and having a "lower than average arrest rate." He was described as lagging "far behind" his colleagues in making arrests.

Russians Gaining Support For Red Summit Conclave

BUDAPEST (UPI)—Most of the 67 Communist parties meeting here threw their support today to a Soviet proposal for a full-scale Red summit later this year.

Jack Woddis, leader of the British Communist Party, told newsmen a "clear consensus" of the parties backed the proposal.

But Wodis conceded that several nations would not take part in the summit; China, Albania and some others would be sure to boycott it.

He said the current meeting might make a firm decision to hold the summit meeting. It would at least recommend it and suggest and agenda and meeting place, he said. He himself favored Moscow as the site.

The summit meeting was proposed by Russia, in order to build an international anti-American front over Vietnam.

But a reported flash of anger at yesterday's session underlined the ideological disarray of the Communist world. Informed sources said Romanian and Syrian delegates shattered the meeting with an exchange so heated that a recess was called to let tempers cool.

More parties at the session voiced support for the summit proposal after Mikhail A. Suslov, the bespectacled chief theoretician for the Kremlin, proposed an agenda that dealt solely with Vietnam.

Suslov's suggested agenda did not hint at the long-held Soviet hope for permanently wresting from Red China the leadership of International Communism through the summit meeting.

Suslov was quoted as accusing Chairman Mao Tse Tung of Red China of "conducting a slander campaign against the convocation of the Budapest Conference."

For that reason, he said, Red China should be ignored in planning for a summit meeting.

Romania had argued that the summit should be delayed until the Chinese Communists agreed to participate and the Romanian party has been a main leader in opposing the early meeting Russia desires.

Parley Hears From College On Freedom

STANFORD (A) — The conference of Communist parties in Budapest, Hungary, has been sent a telegram by 11 staff members of the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace at Stanford University.

The wire yesterday said:

"The undersigned wish to express our deep sympathy with the message conveyed to you by the 12 Soviet signers of the appeal to the Budapest conference of 66 Communist parties in favor of freedom and the rights of man in the Soviet Union."

Signers included Eleanor Lansing Dulles, sister of the late former secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, and Stefan T. Possony, director of international political studies at the institution.

Sonoma Property Undervalued, Says Grand Jury Report

SANTA ROSA (AP) — The Sonoma County Grand Jury has charged that property of 13 firms, including major wineries, was undervalued $19.5 million by the assessor's office.

The list, the jury said yesterday, is headed by United Vintners, Inc., San Francisco-based producer of Italian Swiss Colony wine.

The jury said an investigation by the state attorney general showed the county is entitled to $464,507 in back taxes, plus $116,122 in penalties.

County Assessor J. J. McMullen said he would make no comment until he studies the grand jury report.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Coward Play Is Smashing Evening

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Putting on a Noel Coward play is like trying to balance a bubble for several hours. Style is all, and style is fragile and beautiful. Last night, ABC-TV offered Coward's "Present Laughter," starring Peter O'Toole as a much-put-upon actor, and the bubble remained intact. Television has known few more delightful productions.

It has been said that style is its own form of morality, and if that is so, few writers are in Mr. Coward's class as a unique sort of moralist. He is one of the theater's last remaining contacts with elegance. And ABC-TV's two-hour adaptation of "Present Laughter," an uproarious sophisticated farce more than two decades old, was renewed proof. It was high style, high comedy and a high treat.

Actually, it wasn't really an ABC-TV production at all. It was produced in London by England's Associated Television Ltd., with a British cast that could hardly be improved upon. In his television acting debut in this country, O'Toole—of "Lawrence of Arabia" and "Becket" fame — was altogether smashing as the jaded, world-weary ham actor who attracts women like flies and refuses to let approaching middle age slow him down.

And although Coward's style always dominates his play, how nice it was to see a mature author be satisfied to make a small point well. In the case of "Present Laughter," it was that this egomaniac of an actor, despite his self-centered and glandular existence, at least was honest to himself in his perspective of all the goings-on, as opposed to the righteous, sneaky and bourgeois puffing around of some of his friends and associates.

In short, the play does a remarkably good—and hilarious—job of keeping the subject of sex in perspective. And the director, Gordon Flemyng must get adequate credit for being so agile and adept with this point. As O'Toole finally explodes to the hypocrites: "You wallow and I laugh."

In the play, the actor is constantly pursued by ladies who somehow lose their latchkeys and somehow wind up staying the night in his home. Several persons, however, such as his estranged wife (Honor Blackman), secretary (Avice Landon) and valet (Tony Selby) are loyal to him, and try to keep him pointed in the right direction. And strangely they bring an unexpected, mature warmth to this rapid-fire, wild theatrical excursion.

How wonderful it was to watch a play that, for a change, had no earthshaking message, and whose chief purpose was to entertain. How delectable to have a play with girls named Cynthia and Daphne. How gorgeous to have the cynical ham say, "I love you, Daphne...but this is goodbye."

Immigrant Law Terms Are Eased

LONDON (UPI)—The Labor government today eased the terms of a law to curb the flood of Pakistanis and Indians from East Africa pouring into Britain in an effort to get a balky Parliament to pass it.

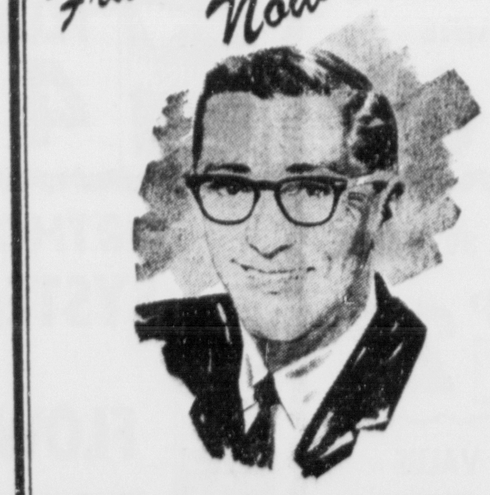
Prospects for the controversial bill's passage before a scheduled midnight deadline appeared dim because of amendments and a planned filibuster when the proposal gets to the House of Lords.

The bill passed its second reading in the House of Commons Tuesday with a massive majority of 310 votes.

KQED Auction Set For Week In June

The 14th annual fund raising auction for educational television station KQED (Channel 9) will be held at the Palace of Fine Arts in San Francisco June 2-8.

Last year the auction raised $228,000 for the station, reported Program Director Jonathon Rice. "Since the Ford Foundation matching grant has expired, the need this year is greater than ever."



When it comes to interpreting the sports news, nobody can match the fancy footwork of Frank Dill. Keep up-to-the-second in the sports world, watch Frank Dill and Sports Report.

Psychological Tests In Pirates' Spring Camp

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sportswriter

Black is to white as night is to: A — Green. B — Day. C — Evening. D — Morning. Pick one.

Psychological testing, long a method for gaining insight into students, job applicants and draftees is being adopted to baseball.

Anxious to learn all they can about their athlete, Pittsburgh officials invited Dr. Tom Tutko, a San Jose State psychologist, to administer a motivational test to the Pirates.

Dr. Tutko ran his test yesterday and although it could not be confirmed, it was rumored one of the questions dealt with why the Pirates insist on hitting one another with baseballs.

Two players were hit by balls yesterday. Tom Sisk stopped a line drive with his left leg while pitching batting practice and Willie Stargell was hit on the batting helmet by a Luke Walker pitch.

Neither was badly hurt but Dr. Tutko might point out to the Pirates the advantages of not incapacitating one another.

Joe L. Brown, general manager of the Pirates, said several pro football teams have used the tests, long a favorite of large companies across the country.

"I want to emphasize," said Brown, "that our sixth place finish has nothing to do with our club taking the tests. If we had won every game last year and won the World Series in four games, I still would have suggested the tests."

Brown says the tests were designed for club officials to learn more about the Pirates, and Gil Hodges, new manager of the New York Mets, has learned something about his club in the few days since training began.

The Mets, Hodges learned, don't have a third baseman.

"We've got to come up with one," said Hodges. "Anytime you use more than two men at one position, you're in trouble.

New York used 11 men at third base in 1967 and finished 10th, which is trouble.

Alvin Dark, another new manager who inherited an eighth place Cleveland team, said only first baseman Tony Horton and third baseman Max Alvis are assured of regular jobs with the Indians.

"We have plenty of time to decide," said Dark of his other positions. "When you finish eighth as the Indians did last year, you must try to do anything for improvement. We have plenty of time to get out of eighth place."

Ollie Brown, an outfielder, signed his contract with San Francisco and Baltimore's Boog Powell took a cut from the Orioles.

Tony Conigliaro, Boston's slugging outfielder, put in a length batting drill against the pitching machine and pronounced his left eye 100 per cent fit. Conigliaro missed the last six weeks of the 1967 season when he was struck in the face by a pitched ball.

"My eye is perfect," said Conigliaro. "There is no blur whatsoever. I can't wait to get at live pitching."

Conigliaro gets that chance today.

Atlanta pitcher Clay Carroll suffered a broken left ankle while running in the outfield and will be out for a month to six weeks.

Those Seals Win Again

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Seals, still at the bottom of the National Hockey League's western division but warming up, leave this week for games Saturday at Pittsburgh and Sunday at Philadelphia.

The Seals defeated the Minnesota North Stars yesterday by a 6-3 score that scarcely told of the near-shutout.

The Seals now have won five of their last seven games, with one defeat and a tie with the same North Stars, who are second in the western division.

The score was 6-0 in the third period before Minnesota's Mike McMahon fended off the blackout with a goal at 9:52. Ted Hampson and Wally Boyer had scored in the first period, Billy Harris in the second, and then Hampson, Harris and George Swarbrick in the third.

Once Minnesota got rolling, Parker McDonald scored unassisted at 12:04, and Andre Boudrias a minute and 40 seconds later.

First period—1, Oakland, Hampson 13 (Swarbrick) 0:34. 2, Oakland, Boyer 10 (B. Harris and Cahan) 9:19. Penalties—None.
Second period—3, Oakland, B. Harris 7 (Erickson) 18:48. Penalties—Goldsworthy 4:58; Cahan 8:47.

When Not Playing Ball, Nate Uses Vocal Chords

JIM SHORTS — The Giants should have a harmonious infield this season as a result of that trade with the Dodgers. Utilityman Nathaniel "Peewee" Oliver — Nate, to you — is a professional singer in the off season. He might even beat Jeff "Oh say, can you see?" Carter out of his job at the P.A. mike. Oliver's theme song, incidentally, is NOT Music For Young Glovers. But he does fiddle around with the base, preferably second or third.

OLD GOLF PAL Bob Moore, the personable former pro at the Meadow Club in Fairfax, has been named new head pro at Peninsula Cuntry Club, filling the sad gap left by the death of Bud Ward. The blond, bespectacled and drawling Moore, an Oklahoma State grad, moves to the Peninsula after several years at Corral de Tierra in Salinas.

I THINK the Bay Area's most appropriately-named coach is Vallejo High's Frank Wetmore. He's the swimming tutor, I said succsinkly.

Motorcyclists Will Be Busy

BEING THE proud and gnat-specked owner of a Yamaha 100, it behooves me to pass along the word that the Marin Motorcycle Association is staging a Scrambles competition this coming Sunday at China Camp. They expect 225 to 250 of Northern California's best riders to compete and spectators are more than welcome. Sorry, but I won't be able to race. You see, they don't allow training wheels and that leaves ME out, Bunkie.

Anyway, the Marin club, four years old and boasting 50 members of all walks of life — including a doctor — is looking for new members. Anyone interested should contact club officials at Sunday's Scrambles or attend the club meeting any Monday, 8 p.m., at the Moose Lodge, 2020 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

There'll Be Game This Year

CHARLEY MONTE of the Ross Valley Kiwanis Club assures one and all that the Marin North-South High School All-Star football game will be played as scheduled Thursday, Aug. 22 at College of Marin field.

Last year, you may recall, the sponsoring Kiwanis Club applied too late to receive NCAA sanction and the game had to be cancelled.

"Be rest assured," said Monte, "that the application will be sent in on time this year, even if we have to fly back to Kansas City and deliver it in person to the (NCAA) game committee."

BELATED HAPPY BIRTHDAYS are in order for San Rafael's touring golf pro Ron Cerrudo and the Giants' new second sacker, Ron Hunt. Cerrudo turned 23 on Feb. 4 and Hunt turned 27 last Friday.

Shooting For A Boxing Title

TIBURON RESIDENT Dirk Noyes, one of the stars on University of California's boxing team, will be shooting for the 147-pound championship in the California Collegiate Boxing Conference tournament at Berkeley tomorrow and Saturday nights.

With a 3-2 won-lost record this year, the 5-foot-11 Noyes is given a good chance at the title, although Nevada's Joe Pedrojetti is favored. Noyes gave him a strong battle, losing a narrow decision, in their only previous meeting.

According to Noyes' coach, Ed Nemir: "Dirk's hitting much sharper and faster this year. Last year he didn't win in three bouts, but he's really come on. He uses more combinations than anyone on our team."

Warriors Hobble Off Court After Drubbing By Celtics

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The crippled San Francisco Warriors returned home to meet Cincinnati tomorrow night in a National Basketball Association game at the Cow Palace.

The Warriors dropped their second game in a row, 135-110, last night in Boston. The night before they were beaten by Philadelphia.

Boston, with John Havlicek scoring 41 points, overpowered the Warriors, now two games out of third place in the Western Division.

The Warriors played without four key men—Nate Thurmond, out with a knee injury; Rudy LaRusso, out with pulled leg ligaments; Jim King, sidelined with an aggravated groin injury; and Joe Ellis, out with a torn calf muscle.

Jeff Mullins led the Warriors with 26. Fred Hetzel and Bob Warlick backed him up with 22 each.

Big League Players Group Okays Agreement With 'Management'

MIAMI (AP) — Major league players representatives ratified a two-year agreement yesterday, calling for binding arbitration by the commissioner of baseball in any dispute arising between the 20 clubs and players.

The agreement, agreed to in principle by player representatives and owners a week earlier, also sets the minimum player salary at $10,000—an increase of $3,000—and gives the players a greater voice in contractural matters.

Marvin Miller, executive director of the players' Association, said the player representatives accepted the arbitration clause after agreeing on several procedural changes in the manner of settling grievances.

"We feel that we have tightened up the steps in settling any grievances, subject to the players' approval, before such disputes might come before the commissioner," Miller said.

The players previously had questioned the commissioner's role as an impartial judge, as he is selected by the owners.

Miller said the changes in the uniform players contract prohibits unilaterial alterations by club managements during the two-year agreement, ending Dec. 21, 1969, and requires negotiations with the players on any changes after that.

The uniform contract "has been revised in a number of important ways and incorporate as part of the basic agreement," Miller said.

"Now the players have a say in its working. For example, the player formerly agreed to abide by baseball rules which the owners could change without consulting the players. In effect, the player was signing a blank check."

He said that, under the agreement, owners "cannot change a rule which reduces a player's benefits or adds an obligation without going through the players' association."

GOOD RELATIONS

Miller, who last November charged the owners with stalling on demands for increased minimum and other proposals, says relations with owners now are reasonably good.

"Sure, there were stormy times during these negotiations," he said. "But in any negotiations leading to agreement of this type, that is to be expected.

"We believe that we have laid the groundwork for a cooperative and mutually respectful relationship. We are hopeful of a successful conclusion."

New York Yankees' pitcher Steve Hamilton was elected the American League player representative, joining Tom Haller, ex-San Francisco Giant and now the Los Angeles Dodgers' catcher, at the executive level of the Association. Hamilton succeeds California Angeles' catcher Bob Rodgers.

Key Game On Tap Tonight: Loyola Vs. San Jose Quint

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Loyola, Cincerella basketball team on the West Coast this season, can move into first place in the West Coast Athletic Conference tonight with a win at San Jose State.

The WCAC has boiled down to a three-team race with Santa Clara and Loyola tied at 9-1 and USF trying to sneak in with an 8-2 mark. The two front-runners tangle March 9.

Pepperdine is at Santa Barbara in another WCAC clash tonight. Both teams bring 2-8 marks into that one.

The Pacific Eight is just a two-team affair. UCLA is 11-0 to no one's surprise, but Southern California's 10-1 mark is a real eyebrow raiser. Most figured that Washington State would give the mighty Bruins the toughest test among AAWU squads, but the Cougars are mired in third at 6-5.

The Bruins and Trojans host Stanford and California this weekend and also are headed for a March 9 showdown against each other.

Meanwhile, latest Pacific Eight statistics show UCLA leading the conference with 51.4 rebounds per game, 91.9 points per contest, and a .501 shooting percent. The Trojans are just ahead of the Bruins with a 65.7 point per game defense mark. Washington has hit on .711 of their charity tosses.

Lew Alcindor of the Bruins is getting a real battle for scoring honors from Stanford's Art Harris. Alcindor is averaging 24.6 to 23.5 for Harris. Others hitting over 20 points per contest include Russ Critchfield of Cal (21.4), Jim McKean of Washington State (20.6) and Bill Hewitt of USC (20.5).

A's Expect Big Things From Nash

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Jim Nash, who broke into the American League sensationally in 1967 but disappointed last season, is coming into the Oakland Athletics camp tomorrow direct from military service.

Officials take that as an indication Nash is already in top physical condition, as he was in 1966. That year Nash had a spectacular 12-1 season and was named A.L. Rookie Pitcher of the Year.

ABOUT FACE

Last season he about-faced to 12-17 and blamed overweight.

Nash has been in military service six months and is due for release just in time to make camp tomorrow. That's the opening day of full training scheduled by manager Bob Kennedy.

Kennedy hopes Nash, restored to normal weight, will keep his poundage down all season and become the 20-game winner he potentially could be. His earned run average was 2.06 in 1966 but zoomed to 3.77 last year. However, he twice struck but 12 batters in a game.

Right fielder Mike Hershberger is the only one of the Athletics who hasn't signed. However, Kennedy expects him to go through that formality on arrival today or tomorrow.

PLEASED

Kennedy emphasizes condition and was pleased with most of his young pitchers and catchers. "These are strong young men. Most have had a good share of work this winter," he remarked.

He was optimistic at Jim Pagliaroni's chances to make a big comeback this season after having had an operation to remove a disc in his neck.

He said Pag is throwing well and shows no indication of the stiffness that kept him on the bench most of last season, when he was with Pittsburgh. The A's obtained the catcher in a winter trade.

Kent, Hall Schools Win Tourney Games

Kent School defeated Del Mar 49-1 and Henry Hall whipped Neil Cummins 41-16 yesterday in the Redwood Elementary School District basketball tournament at Redwood High School.

Sam Hunter led Kent's victory with 10 points. Tom Wallace and Bob Warner each tallied 10 for the Hall team.

The tournament continues through tomorrow night.

Oaks Lose In Double Overtime

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Oakland Oaks, who fell victims to a formidable and expanding Indiana Pacers win streak, meet Minnesota tonight in hopes of fracturing a slump.

The Oaks, fifth in the American Basketball Association's Western Division lost 122-116 last night in double overtime, handing Indiana a six-game winning string.

In their last 13 games, the Oaks have won only twice. Both Dallas and Pittsburgh established new ABA scoring records against the Californians.

The Pacers won their contest after trailing by as many as 15 points in the first period.

Ollie Brown Okays Pact

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (AP) — A young veteran and a rookie brightened the San Francisco Giants spring training camp today.

The veteran is outfielder Ollie Brown, 24, who agreed to terms yesterday, for a contract estimated at $15,000.

ROOKIE HURLER

Reynolds, who spent last season in the Army, impressed Coach Charlie Fox, a former major league catcher, with his fast ball.

Reynolds was the Giants' No. 1 choice in the 1966 free agent draft. That season he was 8-1 with a 2.41 earned run average at Twin Falls, Idaho, and 2-0 with an 0.32 ERA for Fresno in the California League.

Also attracting the coaches' attention has been pitcher Joe Costello, who was 6-6 for Phoenix of the Pacific Coast League last year, and outfielders Bernie Williams and Bob Bonds.

HIT .271

Williams, 20, hit .271 with 14 home runs for Medford, Ore., in the Northwest League in his first year of pro ball.

Bonds, 21, hit .261 with 15 homers for Waterbury, Conn., in the Eastern League.

The Giants jogged another three miles yesterday. Asked why the tempo wasn't increased, Manager Herman Franks said, "I couldn't make another round." The hefty skipper has run every lap with the players.

Franks scheduled the first intrasquad game Sunday.

Gridder Dies From Sniffing Anesthetic

WORCESTER, Mss. (AP) — A 21-year-old Holy Cross football star found dead in his dormitory room early today apparently inhaled a lethal dose of an anesthetic, police said.

Richard H. Giardi, 21, of East Hartford, Conn., was found by his roommate and several other boys. He was a senior at the Jesuit school.

Police Capt. Halstead Taylor said, after talking with a medical examiner, that "the apparent cause of death was accidental inhalation of a lethal dose of anesthesia used for sniffing purposes."

Giardi, a better than average pre-med student, worked part time at St. Vincent's Hospital.

Giardi played middle linebacker and starred against Yale as fullback. He was named to the All-New England football team as cornerback in his junior year.

Californians Hit In ABC Doubles

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two Hamilton, Ohio, teams broke into the top 10 yesterday in the Booster Team Division of the American Bowling Congress Tournament now in its 13th day.

Mosler Combinations paced by Dick Gardner's 635 rolled into fourth position with a 2,693 series while Mosler Selectronics took sixth with 2,684.

Earlier yesterday, two Army sergeants stationed at Ft. Gordon, Ga., hooked up for 1,248 in regular doubles competition to break into third place.

M. Sgt. Lenhard Seibel, Lodi, Calif., paced the tandem with 654 and Sgt. 1. C. Nathan Nelson, 30, Sacramento, Calif., added 594.

Perry 'Outraged' With Spitter Rule

CASA GRANDE, Ariz.—Gaylord Perry today termed "ridiculous" the new baseball rule that prohibits a pitcher from touching his mouth before delivering the ball to the batter.

"It isn't just a matter of a pitcher not being permitted to touch his mouth," said the rangy right-hander of the Giants whose variety of pitches includes a hard slider that enemy batters insist is a spitter.

"As I understand the new rule, it prohibits a pitcher from touching any part of his face, neck, forehead or cap. Now, that is just plain silly. What if your cap is blown off in Candlestick Park? Do you call the trainer out to put it on?

"WHAT HAPPENS if you're sweating hard in muggy midwest weather? Do you call the trainer to bring a towel to the mound and wipe your face?

"What happens to Don Drysdale if he unconsciously touches his cap in the sixth inning of a tight ball game in Dodger Stadium? You throw him out of the ball game if you're the ump?

"Those guys on the Rules Committee are interfering with a pitcher's rhythm with this new law. It puts another restriction on a pitcher's rights. Just who are the members of that committee? I'd like to tell them a thing or two."

PERRY WAS told that Chub Feeney, vice president of the Giants, was one of the Rules Committee members.

"Well," he said, "I'm sure going to get a thorough explanation of the rule from the umpires as soon as they arrive for spring training exhibition games."

Actually, Perry won't have to ask umpires to explain the new rule, enacted to make effective baseball's long-time ban on the spitter.

EACH SPRING umpires go over rules changes with all baseball teams, explaining in detail what is permissible and what is not.

"There are a lot of things I could say about the Rules Committee," said Perry. "But I better not. I understand they listened to one suggestion this winter that the mound be moved back five feet. Now, I ask you, how silly can you get?"

A couple of seasons ago Perry prefected his hard slider and he became a 20-game winner for the first time. With a bit of luck he would have been a 20-game winner again last year except for the loss of nine one-run decisions.

PERRY'S DEVELOPMENT of the hard slider coincided with a habit he acquired — a habit in which he touched his mouth with the index and middle fingers of his pitching hand.

Batters vigorously protested that Perry's hard slider and his newly acquired habit of touching his mouth were more than coincidence. They openly accused him of throwing a spitter.

Of course, Perry was not the only pitcher so accused. The same accusation has been made against Drysdale and others. Finally, the Rules Committee gave the batters the kind of legislation they wanted.

Meyers Has One Pin Lead In Tourney

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Only one pin separated brothers-in-law Norm Meyers of Whittier, Calif., and Dick Weber of St. Louis at the end of the first round yesterday in the Professional Bowlers Association's $50,000 Buckeye Open.

Meyers, who last won a title at Seattle, Wash., in 1964, leads the pack with a total of 2,717 for the first 12 games. Weber, the PBA's all-time top money winner boasting 17 titles and earnings of more than $275,000, is right behind at 2,716.

Don Johnson of Kokomo, Ind., was only three pins off the pace at 2,714. Jim Godman of Hayward, Calif., was fourth with 2,696. Behind him were Mike Durbin, Costa Mesa, Calif., 2,691, and Don Carter, Tarzana, Calif., 2,685.

Jim Stefanich of Joliet, Ill., who won last week's PBA tournament at Tampa, Fla., was 14th with 2,619. Defending champion here, Jim St. John of San Jose, Calif., was further back in the field.

Half the field will be cut this afternoon, and after tonight's action there will be 16 participants left for the start of match game play tomorrow. The champion will be decided Saturday with $6,000 going to the winner.

Marin Boy Sets Norcal Lift Mark

A Northern California record, two first places and two third places were the Marin County MarVel Athletic Club's outstanding performances in last weekend's Open Teen-Age Weightlifting Meet at Berkeley YMCA, Coach Jack MacPhee reported today.

Seventeen-year-old Steve Cass of Terra Linda set the record for the 123-pound division with a press, snatch, clean and jerk total of 458 pounds. His press of 149 and clean and jerk of 182 also were listed as records.

MarVel's other first place was taken by 16-year-old Ed Maniscalco with a 667 total in the 165-pound division.

Third places were taken by Mike Sauber of Novato and Lee Freel of San Rafael.

Russ Skaters Win; U.S. Pair Is Third

COMBINED AP & UPI

GENEVA (UPI) — Russia's Ludmila Beloussova and Oleg Protopopov skated off with the gold in the pairs competition of the World Figure Skating Championship but the United States' Cynthia and Ronald Kauffman got the glory.

That was the unusual verdict of the world's figure skating aficionados following a pairs competition marked by some of the finest skating ever seen but marred by a Russian judge's unaccountable scoring and a suspicion that sentiment was a major factor on the Soviet pairs' fourth straight world title victory.

EASY TRIUMPH

The Protopopovs, who are expected to retire, easily took the title yesterday with a brilliant display of free skating after running up a big lead in the compulsory figures but the crowd's heart clearly belonged to the Kauffmans. It showed it beyond question when it booed the Russian judge's low scores for four minutes and then accorded the Kauffman's a bigger ovation than it gave the winning team when the medals were presented.

The Kauffmans couldn't have won the title no matter how the Russian judge voted but they almost were deprived of third place. Second place went to Tatiana Zhuk and Aleksander Gorelik of Russia, who also indicated their displeasure at the scoring for the Protopopov team.

NO CRITICISM

"It was the best performance of our lives," said the young U.S. pair, who refused to join in criticism of the Russian judge. "We had no complaints with the scoring."

The Protopopovs got 315.9 points, Zhuk and Gorelik 311.5 and the Kauffmans 304.3.

Tim Wood of Michigan took a slim lead over Austraia's defending champion, Emmerich Danzer, in the final two compulsory figures of the men's singles and was rated "even money" when the two finish their competition in tomorrow's free skating.

United States defending champion and Olympic gold medalist Peggy Fleming zoomed into a huge lead after the first two compulsory figures today in the battle for the 1968 world figure skating title.

Griffith, Frazier Becoming Buddies

KIAMESHA LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — Emile Griffith says he's in great shape. One look at him in action is enough to convince anyone that he's not kidding.

Showgirls hate him when they see his narrow waist. Musclemen turn green with envy when they look at his broad shoulders and bulging biceps.

The boxing program tale of the tape says his waist is 28 inches.

26½ INCHES

"It's 26½ inches right now and I've never felt better," said Griffith, who defends his world middleweight title against Italy's Nino Benvenuti at Madison Square Garden Monday night.

This will be Griffith's third title fight with Benvenuti. Griffith lost his crown to the tall, stylish Italian last April and regained it in September.

In the second fight on the doubleheader title card, Joe Frazier of Philadelphia and Buster Mathis of Grand Rapids, Mich., a couple of young, undefeated fighters, will meet for a piece of the world heavyweight title. New York and Massachusetts will recognize the winner as champion.

FAVORITES

Griffith is a 7-5 favorite while Frazier is a 2-1 choice. Both favorites are training here at the Concord Hotel and they have formed a mutual admiration society.

"Emile has never been better," Frazier said today. "He's gonna beat Benvenuti good, and maybe knock him out."

"Joe is going to win by a knockout," said Griffith. "He's one of the hardest working and strongest guys I've ever seen. He keeps coming on and he can take a guy out with one punch. Me, I've got to work on a guy. Maybe if I find the right spot Monday, I'll get a knockout."

In working at the same place and by watching each other they have helped each other. Frazier, a knockout puncher with a left hook, has learned from Griffith how to use his right hand more effectively.

Griffith, a much more experienced fighter, has become more aggressive because of Frazier.

Both were very impressive in workouts yesterday as they neared the end of their training sessions. Frazier, hammered his sparmates to the body and head as usual in a rugged drill. Griffith followed with another rousing session and had the guests here applauding.

"I'm in better shape right now for the third fight than I was for the second one (which he won)," said Griffith. "It wasn't until about the last two weeks that I began to put everything together for the second fight. This time I've felt great from the very start.

Sure, I've had an off day or two but most of the time it's been great. I can't wait for fight time."

"I just hope Emile wakes up Monday feeling that way," said co-manager Howie Albert. "If he does, it may be over early for Benvenuti."

Rich Will Be Poorer Next Year

By GARY TISCHLER

Care to take a look at the 1968-69 Marin County Athletic League basketball race now that this season's little derby is over?

If experience means anything, the rich will get poorer and the poor will get richer next season.

This year's champion Tamalpais and runnerup Marin Catholic, the two teams that enjoyed the most success this season, will have difficulty in getting anywhere near their respective 11-1 and 10-2 records.

Terra Linda and San Rafael should be in good position to move out of the depths of the cellar they occupied at the end of this season.

Novato, so disastrously poor a year ago, and much better this year, should get even better, with a clear shot at the title.

Drake, whose two-year reign ended convincingly this year, will rebound.

And Redwood will field another strong team, possibly of championship caliber.

Tam and Marin Catholic will be scratching in near-empty barrels.

The Indians return only Don Mackin and a scrap of little-experienced bench-warmers, with very little to look forward to in the lower echelons of Class B, jayvee and frosh teams, with the exception of Class B player Ken Gommeringer.

The Wildcats will be looking at an empty bag, as the entire varsity team graduates. But Marin Catholic did have a solid frosh team and Mike Luchessa stood out in "B" ranks.

Terra Linda returns a crew of solid veterans, headed by hot-shooting guard Pat Purcell, a second-team all-leaguer, and such experienced players as Jack Mansur, Bob Nadell, Mike Timmell, Byron Sakanari and Guy Franklin. And the Bees, jayvees and frosh were all up in the standings. The lean years may be over for the Trojans.

Novato returns its top two scorers, guard Steven McNally and forward Ed Herrnberger, with McNally being all-league first-teamer, plus there are sometime starters Bob Ament and Mike Ahern in addition to a good prospect in Larry Ferguson, plus Gary Howard from a "B" team that tied for the league title.

San Rafael returns Ray Taylor, Roger Thomas, and Bill Sleezer, all of whom started at one time or another, plus a hot junior prospect in Bruce D'Ambra and two-year Class B star Bruce Nave, the leading Bee scorer in the league last year.

Drake, which had only one starter back this year, gets two of them this time, one of them a genuine scoring prospect. That's Fred Westcott, a long-shooting forward who hit the scoring column late in the season. Back also is starting guard Clark Jamison and veteran Dave Alvarado, plus whatever can be picked up from a fine "B" team.

The big one may turn out to be Redwood, where Bill Challander, a 6-5 frosh waits in the wings.

Even if Challander is held back for another year, the Giants will stilll be loaded. Back from the varsity squad is Jim Peters, the team's No. 2 scorer, plus part-time starter Jerry Piro, a corner, fine-shooting Roger Smith, Skip Corsini and Pat Curley. Plus there's talent from championship B and jayvee teams, including Bees Art Carewe and Kent Skov.

SPEAKING OF frosh teams, the Terra Linda frosh tied for the MCAL title with Redwood on a strong defensive game in contrast to the Giants' high-powered offensive tactics.

But in a game that gave the Trojans the title share, they topped the injury-crippled Giants, 57-23.

For the season, the Terra Linda frosh allowed just 29 points per game while scoring at a 39.9 clip.

Leading the Trojans to the title were Chris Hansen, Tom Kendall, Larry Kerr, Steve Pieper and Gordy Waller.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARIAN LADEWIG

Few bowlers ever watch the ball as it leaves their hand (or they shouldn't, anyway), so it often comes as a surprise when they are told they are setting the ball down behind the foul line. "Who, me?" is a frequent response when this information is volunteered. The unbelieving dropper can be quickly convinced if an envelope is placed just beyond the foul line. Unless the ball is landing a few inches past the line, black marks will show on the envelope.

Harada To Switch To Featherweight

TOKYO (AP) — The Japan Boxing Commission said today dethroned world bantamweight champion Fighting Harada wants to fight as a featherweight and it has asked the World Boxing Association to list him as a challenger in its next ratings.

The Japanese boxer lost his crown Tuesday to Lionel Rose of Australia in a 15-round decision. Harada, 24, won the bantamweight title in 1965 but has had difficulties making the division's 118-pound weight limit.

The JBC said Harada's manager, Takeshi Sasazaki, told the commission after Tuesday's fight that the boxer now planned to fight in the 126-pound featherweight division.

Salmon Fishing Slows Down; Good Striper Catches Reported

STEVENS

Sad to relate, the fast action with ocean salmon slowed down Tuesday. Perhaps an average of one fish per rod, but hardly more.

It's not a question of the salmon leaving the areas north of the Golden Gate; the fish are probably in that general area. On Monday some fair to good catches of salmon were made in the Lightship locale. So it seems apparent that the schools of fish will have to be relocated.

THERE IS, however, a silver lining to the dark clouds. Striper striving in San Pablo Bay (especially off China Camp, and the flats inshore from the Pump House), proved very nice catches have been made the past three days, some monsters were boated — to 44 pounds. Carl Bennet called to report a very successful weekend fishing. Fish were taken on both grass shrimp and bullheads.

The was action over a wide area — good between buoys and flats (The buoys mentioned were 7 and 9). A quintet of expert anglers from South County — John Thomas, Joe Andre, Dominick Speciale, Jerry Randozzio and Lee Scott — really had a lot of excitement. Each had his legal three fish, ranging from 12 to 38 pounds.

THE ACTION was had off Buoy 5. Moto Yamato and George Hoshide took five striped bass, weighing from 14 to 44 pounds, all on bullheads. Carl Bennett of the Rodeo Marina spot estimated about 120 bass taken on Saturday and still better on the Sabbath. Fish ran to slightly over 35 pounds. Most action was had in the general area we call the "Pump House" section of the San Pablo Bay.

Frank Chang and Jack Marshall of San Leandro reduced the bass population by taking limits ranging from 10 to 30 pounds.

I asked Carl if the party boats were cleaning up. "The boat, Marauder, boated five sturgeon and four bass, all taken on grass shrimp; the Phil Ray, with seven rods working, brought aboard five bass, was his report.

I WAS INFORMED that Carl Bennett and his good wife went fishing and caught oodles of flounders and two bass. (The distaff part of the Bennets did most of the catching.)

Congratulations to Robert Lake who offered a pile worm to a 54-pound sturgeon who gobbled it up. Lake will have plenty of freshly caught fish food for some time to come.

Betty Urbais of the Sausalito boat and tackle reported the big, roomy party boat Blue Horizon worked for rockfish out near the Farallones. Netted 13 limits of rockfish to 12 pounds. The average was about 10 to 15 fish per rod.

'68 Angling Rules To Begin March 1

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The State Department of Fish and Game has reminded anglers that the new 1968 fishing regulations take effect on March 1.

Copies of the new regulations are available from DFG offices and license agents throughout the state. The new regulations are highlighted by a trout season which lasts until Nov. 15, about two weeks longer than the traditional Oct. 31 closing date.

The 1968 season also will find extended night fishing in the Sacramento-San Joaquin delta, with all night fishing for all species in those portions of Alameda, Contra Costa, Sacramento, San Joaquin, Solano and Yolo counties surrounded by highways 1-80, U.S. 50 and State Highway 21.

Gallinas Valley

Gallinas Valley Little League announces signups will be held Saturday at the Santa Venetia Presbyterian Church, 635 Adrian Way, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Boys whose birthday falls on or between Aug. 1, 1955, to July 31, 1960 are eligible. Fee is $7.50. A Babe Ruth League has been formed for boys 13 through 15, and signups will be held later.

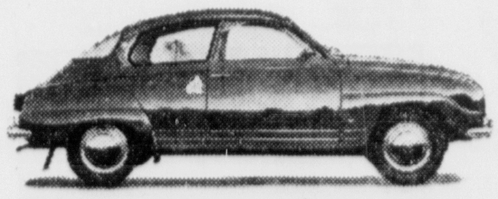
It does things other small cars shouldn't do.



Cornering at high speeds is one of the last things to expect small cars to do, successfully. Unless it's a SAAB, the out-of-the-ordinary small car. Out of the ordinary because it has front-wheel drive. So it doesn't push you around like others do. It pulls you around corners, curves and other drivers' mistakes. Is that all SAAB has? Not on your life. Most ordinary cars don't give you, even as options, all the standard SAAB safety features. As an optional extra, our new V-4 engine has a LIFETIME GUARANTEE.

Today is Thursdy. Feb. 29, the 60th day of 1968 with 306 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning star is Venus. The evening stars are Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1872, Queen Victoria of Great Britain narrowly missed death at the hands of an assassin.

In 1924 Charles Forbes, former head of the Veteran's Bureau in Washington, was indicted for frauding the government.

In 1956 President Eisenhower announced he would run for a second term on the Republican ticket.

A thought for the day: Francis Bacon said, "Virtue is like a rich stone, best plain set."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

TRUMP PLAY

"West took the king and queen of hearts and then shifted to the jack of diamonds. Since East had started with only two hearts I assumed he would have length in spades. I therefore began the trumps by taking dummy's ace. East discarded a diamond on the next trump, and I knew I would have to lose a trump.

"There was still a chance, and I led to the king of clubs and tried a finesse with the jack of clubs. If this worked I wouldn't have to lose a diamond trick. But it failed, and I lost two black queens as well as two hearts.

"What should I tell my partner?"

Tell him anything, but hide today's newspaper. There was a simple way to make the contract without worrying about the black queens.

DON'T DRAW TRUMPS

There is no need to draw trumps early. Take the third trick with the ace of diamonds and return a diamond. When West follows suit, win with the king of diamonds and ruff a heart.

CASH CLUBS

Now cash the top clubs and ruff a club in dummy. Ruff another heart, reducing all hands to four cards. You have three trumps and a diamond in each hand.

Give up the diamond trick and let the opponents lead. Anything they do will give you the last three tricks no matter who has the queen of trumps.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player bids two diamonds.

You hold:
♠ 6
♥ 7 4
♦ Q 9 8 7 3
♣ 10 8 7 4 2.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You would double if you could guarantee that everybody would then pass, but there is grave danger that the double will induce somebody to bid hearts or notrump. Don't drive the opponents out of the only contract you can hope to defeat.

Resuscitation Group Saves Dead Persons

DETROIT (UPI)—Training in methods of bringing "dead" persons back to life is offered by the National Resuscitation Society, according to the "Encyclopedia of Associations," published by Gale Research Co.

Not a crackpot outfit, the organization's 200 members are physicians and surgeons who enroll for an intensive course in methods of reviving persons whose hearts have stopped beating.

San Rafael Loses Mortgage Firm To San Francisco Site

A firm that has occupied a prominent site at 1330 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, for the past 16 years, First of California Mortgage Co., is giving up this address to move to San Francisco.

The mortgage banking company, which specializes in commercial and industrial real estate, represents Eastern and Midwestern insurance companies and mutual savings banks and makes loan placements for these institutional investors throughout California, Nevada and Oregon. It is relocating its headquarters in San Francisco's Russ Building. The new office will open on Monday.

Outweighing other considerations, it is simply a matter of acquiring a location which will allow the company to become better known and expand its operations in the area south of San Francisco, according to president Paul D. Buchholz. Present members of the staff will remain with the firm, he says "and help to complicate the commuting problem to the city."

The company sold its building on Lincoln Avenue to a group of investors last May.

NEW BRANCH WAREHOUSE facilities have been taken in Northgate Industrial Park by the long established Sausalito Moving and Storage.

Owner Albert Couderc has acquired a 7,500-square-foot concrete building at 153 Paul Drive. The main office and warehouses will remain at 333 Caledonia Street, Sausalito.

Davies Brody

ALFRED P. DAVIES of Napa has been promoted to the newly created position of vice president in charge of the commercial and installment loan division of Redwood National Bank in San Rafael. With the bank since 1964, he has been assistant vice president at the Napa branch. He will take over the administrative formulation and control of Redwood's commercial and installment lending policies and will report directly to president Byron W. Leydecker.

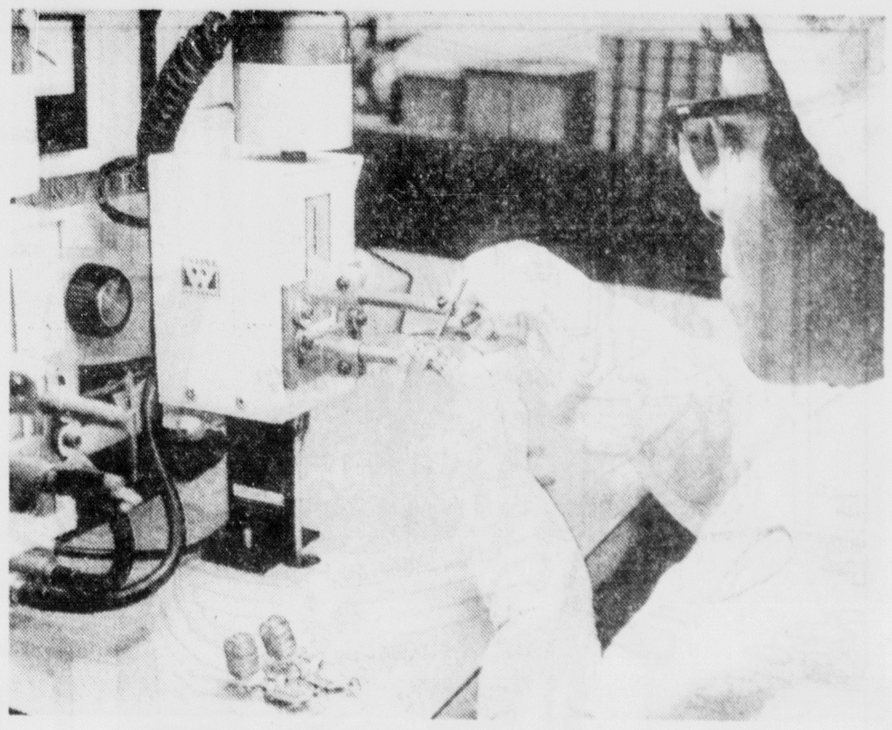
INSURANCE: Arthur P. Brody of San Rafael has qualified as group leader of New York Life Insurance Co. for his 1967 group insurance sales. . . . Robert Maney, general agent in San Rafael for Mutual Benefit Life, reports company gains last year in all areas of operation.

JEAN AND ARTHUR OST, owners of the recently opened Gift Horse in the Montecito Shopping Plaza, San Rafael, have expanded their operation to include a gallery of fine arts. Featured will be oils, water colors, prints, tapestries and small sculpture by prominent Bay Area artists. A preview and reception will be held tomorrow night and plans call for a new one-man show each month. The first will open this Saturday.

LOCH LOMOND PHARMACY, San Rafael has taken on the local franchise for Barton's candies. An extensive assortment of all types of confections is now being stocked by Robert R. Cuneo — including miniatures, wafers and Swiss chocolates.

WILLIAM EASTMAN of Sausalito, used car salesman for Leon C. Felton Co., San Rafael, is receiving Volkswagen's excellence of performance award, to be presented next week. He has been in the automobile business 25 years and has been with Volkswagen for the last 18 months.

WE REGRET having omitted Canadian Pacific Airlines from our travel services guide in last week's travel edition. The company, with offices at 343 Powell Street, San Francisco, gives air service from San Francisco and Vancouver, B. C., to Canadian cities, South America, Europe and Asia.



GOOD HOUSEKEEPING REQUIRED

Honeywell stroboscopic flash units must be assembled in a completely dust free "clean room" to make sure they operate reliably. In the firm's Denver, Colo., plant, a worker garbed and gloved in special clothing welds the flash tube to a sensing device that automatically cuts off the flash when it has reached the right intensity.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

City Council Ignores Charter And Vote

When a San Rafael board of freeholders drew up the city charter in 1912, it included this provision as Article XIV, Section 1:

"The council shall have power to designate the terms, conditions and duration of all franchises, subject to the general laws of the state and the provisions of this charter relating thereto; provided that no exclusive franchise shall ever be granted."

Over the years, this provision curbed many attempts by many companies and individuals to obtain exclusive rights to furnish one service or another in San Rafael. In the course of time, the state pre-empted the licensing field for electrical power and telephone service, so Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., respectively, thus obtained exclusive rights through the state. But no exclusive franchise was awarded by the city.

IN 1965, THE CITY COUNCIL wanted to grant an exclusive garbage collection franchise. Aware of the charter restriction, councilmen asked City Atty. David Menary Jr. if there were a legal way this could be done.

He found a way, based upon a legal technicality established by a court decision that a garbage collection contract was not a franchise. In January, 1966, the city granted Marin Sanitary Service an exclusive 10-year franchise (call it what you will). This was followed up on Aug. 2, 1966, with an ordinance making it a misdemeanor not to contract for Marin Sanitary's collection service.

Not everyone was pleased with the legalistic sleight-of-hand by which the city had gone against its charter. This was proved in the city charter revision election of April, 1967.

CHARTER PROPOSITION M was: "To permit the city to grant exclusive franchises."

The people turned it down, 2,642 to 2,459. The majority thereby notified the city council that it wanted no tinkering with the city charter's prohibition of exclusive franchises.

The city council, however, does not take seriously either the charter or the will of the people.

UP FOR ADOPTION at Monday night's council meeting will be Ordinance 898, awarding Tele-Vue Systems, Inc., an exclusive franchise to provide cable television service in San Rafael.

The ordinance does not say "exclusive franchise." It says "license." Nowhere in the ordinance does it say no other company can offer such service in San Rafael; BUT, the contract for which the ordinance provides includes a map — referred to in the body of the ordinance—which shows the areas to be served by Tele-Vue Systems, Inc. The map covers all of the city except Sun Valley and Terra Linda, where Tele-Vue Systems, Inc., already is operating under a previous agreement.

WHEN THE ORDINANCE was passed to print last month, there were present the principal owner and attorney of a competing cable television company, Cable Television of Marin, who said that company would be willing to enter San Rafael on a competitive basis.

The councilman, however (Mayor C. Paul Bettini was absent), said they preferred an exclusive franchise.

No doubt City Attorney Menary has so drawn the ordinance that it does not legally violate the charter provision. But the people of San Rafael who said "no" to changing that charter provision were not concerned with legal mumbo-jumbo.

They were concerned with principle. The city council should be, too.

Ominous Silence

Despite the large loss of life and more than 1,000 people injured, the recent earthquake in Sicily was not a major temblor. The largest shock in the series was only 5.7 the Richter sacle. A magnitude of 7 is considered major; anything above 8 is considered a great quake.

There has been no great quake in the world since the Alakan shake of 1964. This earthquake silence is the longest since seismologists began measuring such shakes 70 years ago.

Since the stresses of diastrophism which result in earthquakes proceed at a fairly steady rate, the silence is rather puzzling and a bit ominous. It's rather like building up steam in a boiler and limiting its escape.

A Man Who Leaves His Mark

In each city are a few men who leave a mark on the community — an influence that is felt by many who may not even have known the man who gave it birth.

Such a man was William P. Murray Sr., whose funeral will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael, which his father helped establish.

William P. Murray lived 84 years of his life in San Rafael. And the mark he made is evident in the church he served as an elder, in the Boy Scouts, in the business and financial community.

He was a banker throughout his adult life. For many years he headed the First National Bank and Bank of San Rafael, now a unit of the Crocker-Citizens chain. The present Bank of Marin is the creation of his sons who carry on the family banking tradition.

Traditionally, bankers are not the best-loved citizens. But William P. Murray was a banker who won the affection of his community, both as businessman and as civic leader. He was one of those few who stamp a part of their image on their home town.

Peace-Freedom Platform Tragic

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It is certainly a shame that the Peace and Freedom party has seen fit to stand upon such a radical platform for this only reenforces the administration lie that opposition to Johnson's war is confined to "new-left" Black Power-hippie type kooks. This simple is not true. Virtually every opponent to Vietnam that I know (including yours truly) is a pro-establishment, middle-class square who thinks Johnson has his priorities reversed. That is, if he wishes to preserve the status-quo in this country, the worst way to go about it is to waste huge quantities of our psychic energy, lives, material, and money in a pointless intervention in an Asian civil war while internal social problems in this country go unattended for another decade or two.

This action by the P and F party is tragic on another count. Such a platform can only appeal to the hyperthyroid left whose numbers are few. Bona fide opponents to the war now have no place to express their opposition. Few of us can stomach such radicalsim: a choice between Nixon and Johnson is no choice at all; and no one can vote for that fascist racist Wallace. Such a platform will only put the pharaoh back in for another four years.

Have Sacrifices Served Purpose?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Vietnam comes to Marin — again! Monday saw the final rites with full military honors for Pfc. Gary Port, age 19. When the last notes of "Taps" were sounded in 13,000 plus similar funerals I wonder how many of those bereaved questioned themselves about when it is all to end?

Sudden and violent death at any age is always a shock; it is doubly so when it comes to one so very, very young! At 19 Gary, of course, was not deemed by his elders to be mature enough to help decide whether the United States should undertake alone the task of policing the world. Had he been given that opportunity he may have decided that such a colossal undertaking, if necessary, should be the job of the United Nations. It is questionable whether the sacrifices of Gary and his thousands of comrades have altered the course of the world.

Attorneys Not Bound By ABA

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Yesterday's (Monday's) editorial criticized the American Bar Association because its House of Delegates adopted a so-called Reardon Report "prescribing a set of restrictions on what can and cannot be told the public about criminal cases." Such editorial contains serious errors.

(1). You state: "Any attorney who disclosed any of these things would be subject to disbarment, since the bar association policies its own membership . . ."

The fact: The American Bar Association has not now, never has had and never will have the power to disbar any lawyer. Said power is in the Courts.

(2). You state: "The District Attorney, of course, is a member of the bar association and subject to its discipline."

The fact: Many (perhaps most) district attorneys are not members. The American Bar Association is made up of lawyers who voluntarily become members. No lawyer must belong; most lawyers do not belong.

The "Reardon Report" prescribes restrictions which are substantially the same as have prevailed for many years under English Law. Why not an editorial as to how the English system is working?

Kettenhofen Road Plan Supported

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mr. (Ernest N.) Kettenhofen is completely correct in pushing for Highway 17 immediately. Ross Valley is choking to death on traffic, as the long lines of cars on Drake Boulevard grow daily. It is nonsense to think that we must funnel all the traffic down Drake Boulevard. Between 5:00 and 6:00 p.m., the quickest way from San Anselmo to Fairfax is out San Anselmo Avenue, a street that has not changed, except for pavement, in 50 years. While most residents do not relish the thought of a wide freeway in the center of town, I believe the vast and overwhelming number of intelligent and active citizens want quick access to Highway 101.

In my opinion, the so called "town meetings" held on this topic were a perversion of the Democratic process. One woman, from Fairfax, even gloated in the "Letters to the Editor" how she went from meeting to meeting vocalizing against "the freeway." Regretably, this sort of thing seemed to impress the less perceptive supervisors from the periphery of the county and once again, a loud minority overruled the public interest, convenience, and necessity.

I believe that San Francisco Boulevard should be cut through to Northgae and Fifth Avenue in San Rafael, and I believe it should be done now. Fawn Drive should be cut through to Esmeyer Drive where several hundred feet of road will save eight miles of drive. Butterfield Road should extend to Lucas Valley, and the White's Hill area to Lucas Valley. Mr. Kettenhofen's plan is one way of doing part of this without raiding the county treasury. Without it, upper Ross Valley is dead.

Litterbug Arrests Gratify Reader

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It was very gratifying and to me much pleasure to read of the arrest of two persons found guilty of disposing of litter along the roadways.

Although the maximum fine of $500 plus a six-month jail sentence was not imposed, the offenders did receive a good fine and only five days in jail.

This nuisance must stop, and those guilty will find that the courts in Marin County will not tolerate such offenses. The cooperation of the sheriff's department and the highway patrol in Marin is commendable.

As a resident of Marin County, but most of all as a mother of two, I want to say my heartfelt thanks to all the law enforcement agencies for doing what I think is "one heck of a job" on the dope situation in this county over the weekend.

I just wish I could thank each one of them personally for making me breath a little easier and I hope this has shaken up the residents that couldn't see the forest for the trees!

They got the ball rolling down the right path and all I pray is that when it is in the judicial's lap they will continue the good work and make it so hard on these people that maybe-just maybe-Marin won' be a melting pot for them and you can send your kid off to school without worrying.

My thanks, fellas, you did a great job!

Redistricting Keeps States In Turmoil

By RAYMOND LAHR

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The census-taker and court orders have kept the states in turmoil for seven years over how to map congressional districts to comply with still unsettled standards for the election of House members.

The end is not in sight.

Legislatures in New York, Indiana and Missouri are now under court order to redraw their congressional districts for the 1963 elections. New Jersey's new Republican legislature is thinking about tinkering with the district lines drawn by a Democratic legislature last year.

Missouri's compliance with the court order would be its fourth redistricting since the 1960 census. For New York and Indiana, it would be the second. Many other states have redrawn their districts two or three times.

THIS DECADE began with heavier than usual congressional reapportionment because of the population shift of the 1950s. Nine states gained one or more seats and 16 lost one or more.

As a result of these changes, 19 states changed their congressional district maps in 1961 and 1962. Some states which had gained a seat merely elected a congressman-at-large. Alabama, which lost a seat, failed to produce a redistricting plan and elected its entire House delegation at large in 1962 before redistricting in 1963.

Following a practice common after previous census-taking, states which failed to gain or lose seats neglected to change their districts to reflect population shifts within the states.

THEN CAME the Supreme Court's decision early in 1964 that congressional districts must be based on a one-man, one-vote principle and must be approximately equal in population. This decision was a predictable follow-up to the Court's similar rulings affecting state legislatures.

Since the 1964 decision, 35 states have adopted congressional redistricting plans. New York will be the 36th.

Plans approved by state and federal courts have not followed uniform population standards. The Missouri plan, ruled invalid by a federal court, showed a difference of only 6.2 per cent in population between the least and most populous districts.

WITH PRIMARY filing deadlines approaching or already past, authorities here doubt that there will be any more court action to compel redistricting before the 1968 elections. But the population disparity between districts in some states is great enough to invite more lawsuits before the 1970 elections.

The House passed a bill in 1965 to try to set population standards for congressional districts, but the measure died in the Senate. A House bill passed in 1967 was so altered by the Senate that the two chambers could not agree on a compromise, and the second bill was buried.

THE 1970 CENSUS is expected to force another wave of redistricting. Fifteen states are expected to gain or lose seats because of population changes.

Census bureau projections indicate that California will gain six seats, Florida two and Arizona, New Jersey and Texas one apiece. Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, West Virginia and Wisconsin each are expected to lose one seat and Pennsylvania is expected to lose two.

The next census should enlarge the California House delegation, now 38 members, to 44. New York, now with 41 members, is expected to drop to second place with 40.

Plight Of Kenya Refugees Reenacts An Old Story

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The plight of 120,000 Asians unwanted either by Kenya, for many the land of their birth, or by Britain, the nation of which they are citizens, is the reenactment of a story that has made minority groups the scapegoats of history.

In ancient times, the minority might simply have become the slaves of the majority.

In modern times, they lose their privileges, are reduced to the status of second class citizen, and, in extreme cases, lose their means of livlihood.

In medieval times, the classic example was the expulsion of the Jews from western Europe and the growth of the huge Jewish community in Poland under the protection of Casimir III the Great.

THE UNITED STATES' fear of the "yellow peril" and the barriers raised against immigration from Asia around antagonisms the United States continues to feel to this day.

The fear of the minority by the majority must have its roots in economics, whether it be a fear of competition from cheap labor, small business or huge industry and thus in effect it raises a tariff wall against humanity.

In Vietnam, the fact that Chinese merchants have a practical monopoly on the flow of rice, makes them a special target of the majority, accentuated rightly or wrongly by Red China's aid to North Vietnam.

The same is true in Singapore where Chinese and Indian control of commerce makes them the particular target of the Malay majority.

Burmese expropriation of Indian properties in order to return control to native Burmese led to a mass exodus of improverished Indians such as is being seen today in Kenya.

THE NEW BARRIERS being raised by Britain against Asians are ironic not only because they go against British tradition but also for the fact that another Commonwealth nation formerly noted for its ban against Asian immigration now is admitting Asians in increasing numbers. That nation is Australia, acting under a policy of liberalization inaugurated two years ago.

The flight of Asians from Kenya is sparked by a recent government decision to speed Africanization of business and civil service at the expense of Asians refusing to adopt Kenya citizenship.

Since no government can be blamed for refusing preference for those who won't assimilate, the onus must fall upon the British who gave them the choice of British citizenship and in effect today takes it away.

A special irony to the situation is that a leader of the campaign to "keep Britain British" is Duncan Sandys, a one-time son-in-law of Winston Churchill. Sandys as commonwealth and colonial secretary in 1963, was the man principally responsible for giving British passports to today's refugees.

What Is Synanon Life Style? Founder Tries To Explain It

The tactics of Synanon Foundation have long puzzled many people.

There was a 1961 hassel in Santa Monica over zoning requirements. San Francisco residents later protested Synanon's presence in that city. In 1964 there was a skirmish about need of a use permit when Synanon came to Marshall for its drug addiction treatment center.

Now there's a goodly dispute brewing over its current hopes to purchase and live in "Synanon life style" at the Uplands Apartments in East Corte Madera. Zoning problems may develop there, also.

In Corte Madera, at least, it's mainly that one little phrase that makes for a double-take every time. "Life style." What does that mean?

DAN L. GARRETT, director of the San Francisco division of Synanon, declared Feb. 2 that the apartments, if purchased, would provide "The Synanon life style not only for persons presently residing in Synanon, but for many responsible citizens from the Bay Area who wish to join us in this way of life."

William Quinn, acting director of the Marshall treatment center, said essentially the same thing. William McBride, Corte Madera zoning administrator, and his staff came up with a more expansive description, one straight from the mouth of Synanon's founder himself, Charles Dederich.

It is taken from a Synanon publication of last summer. Dederich's piece reads in part:

"IN THE WESTERN world today the center of energy, learning and culture is supposed to be the family. The family unit (a man, a woman and 2.3s children) are isolated from their fellows in a swelling machine and from there things are supposed to happen. In my opinion, and I don't think that this is a unique opinion, this is wrong. Our center of energy — the source of our culture — is out of balance. . . .

"It's been said before that quite possible the center of the human force is the tribe — the club. Now, man in his efforts to find proper ways to live has come up with something approaching the ideal human grouping. . . .

"Coming out from the club would be Synanon houses of varying sizes — depending upon the physical environment that it is possible to create. In addition, we have other offshoots that represent a present phenomenon: people who are closely related to Synanon or who went through Synanon are are now working and living in the larger society. They relate through this situation with one another and with other people who live in this constellation . . .

"Synanon could be the largest landlord in the United States so fast that it make your head swim. It's beginning to take form and it is utterly explosive in its social and economic implications. We have right here the seeds of a fantastic social movement. When people combine for the purpose of helping their fellow man there is absolutely no limit to what they can do. . . .

"In a very short time, a new Synanon resident will leave a slum street in an underprivileged area in a large or small city in the United States and he will move into a different situation. He is not moving into a dormitory situation. He is not moving into an institution. He is moving into a complete life style. He's living in a complex which includes many things. He is a paid-up member of the club which has an Olympic pool in it. It has steam baths and exercise machines and art schools and a lot of nice people to play cards with and meet. He is a first class citizen the moment he walks through the door. We are plugged in socially and economically.

"We are going to attempt to put on a demonstration project of the microcosm of the force field that can create the great society."

THE PEOPLES'S SCHOOLS

Two School Systems Attacked As Too Big

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

In an era of business mergers, multiversities and regional government, the school systems of two of America's largest cities have come under attack as too big to function.

Breakup of the Los Angeles City School District into 10 smaller districts is sought in a bill introduced in the California Legislature by Sen. John R. Harmer, R-Glendale.

Establishment of up to 60 "sub-districts" within the New York City School District is sought by Mayor John Lindsay as result of a study by a task force on education.

SENATOR HARMER in Los Angeles and Mayor Lindsay in New York both say the school systems have simply become so huge and unwieldy that their problems are insoluble. Both think that breaking them into districts of manageable size is necessary.

Harmer, in introducing his SB 276, declared:

"Poor community support, poor teaching, poor education are qualities that distinguish the Los Angeles School District, which is entrusted with the education of over 650,000 children. The Los Angeles School Board . . . has acknowledged these problems and attributed them to the district's enormous size."

LINDSAY HAS retreated somewhat from the recommendation of his task force, which was for establishment of 30 to 60 district school boards in New York City, leaving the city board of education shorn of its powers. Now the mayor would leave the high schools under the city board for a few years while the new organization gets established, but would put elementary schools under the new district "sub-boards."

The New York mayor thus goes farther than has Los Angeles with its system of deputy superintendents to try to keep track of the schools in each part of the city; but he does not go so far as Harmer would in breaking up the Los Angeles system.

ATTACK ON a school district for its size is a reversal in California. For years, the emphasis has been on merger and unification, to make bigger districts and eliminate the myriad tiny school districts throughout the state.

The drive has made headway. It cut the total number of school districts in California about in half — from 3,047 to 1,545 — in the 30 years from 1935 to 1965. Since then it has lopped off more than 200 additional.

However, the unification drive has worked mainly to assimilate fair-sized elementary districts into the high school districts. As of 1966, there were still 34 elementary districts in California with fewer than 15 pupils.

THE PRESSURE for bigness seems to be easing. The California Legislature last year revised the criteria for unification to permit breaking up high school districts, and one unification plan approved by the State Board of Education last month (for Antelope Valley in Los Angeles County) called for such a break-up. Unification is still the goal—but not necessarily big districts.

The drive for bigger districts has been accompanied by a campaign for bigger schools. But this, too, is changing.

James Bryant Conant, with his 1959 "comprehensive high school" report, lent his prestige to the mania for size by contending that a high school must have at least 2,000 students to offer a comprehensive program. When Conant made his second "comprehensive high school" report last year, he reserved himself, writing: "I am prepared to maintain that an excellent comprehensive high school can be developed in any school district provided the high school enrolls at least 750 students and sufficient funds are available."

Educators who had cited Conant in calling for bigger and bigger schools found it necessary to reassess their claims.

RESULTS OF recent statewide and nation-wide tests (which were bitterly opposed by many educators) pointed at failures in the biggest schools and particularly the biggest systems. Los Angeles and San Francisco pupils rated well below state averages. Those in New York City public schools were near the bottom for the entire nation.

Senator Harmer's bill may not pass; but if it does not, some other means of breaking up the huge Los Angeles district may be expected — perhaps along the lines of what Mayor Lindsay is trying in New York.

Peking Boosting Western Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says Red China's trade with non-Communist countries—particularly in Western Europe—increased sizeably in 1966.

Peking's exports to Western Europe rose 25 per cent from 1965 and its imports from that area were up 36 per cent, Rusk reported Tuesday.

He said its exports to all non-Communist countries were up 20.5 per cent and imports increased 14.4 per cent.

The figures came in Rusk's annual report to Congress on the Mutual Defense Assistance Control Act, which provides control over trade with nations "threatening the security of the United States."
